03/29/2020	40	Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Teleconference held on March 29, 2020. The parties' responses to the Texas Attorney General's motion to intervene are due on March 30, 2020, at 5:00 p.m. The March 30 teleconference is reset to March 31, 2020, at 4:00 p.m. The parties agreed that Harris County District Attorney Kim Ogg should be added to the list of interested nonparties in the case. The plaintiffs agreed to give a copy of their future filings to the Texas Attorney General's counsel and to file any document containing arrestees' personal information under seal. Counsel for the defendants will inform the court and parties of the status of the release of all arrestees affected by Judge Herb Ritchie's March 20, 2020, General Order Bond Order. The parties and the court discussed limiting the relief sought such that all parties could agree. The parties and the court also discussed the possibility of resolving the immediate issues expeditiously and within state and local authority by forming a consensual plan to reduce the Jail population in response to and during the national emergency in a way that protects the public health and safety of those in the Jail, those in contact with them, and the community at large. The court delayed the previously-scheduled March 30 teleconference to give the parties time to investigate that possibility.

03/31/2020	57	Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Teleconference held on March 31, 2020. Counsel for Harris County Judge Lina Hidalgo informed the court that Judge Hidalgo is planning to order the release of pretrial felony arrestees who have been detained for nonviolent offenses and have no history of violent offenses, among other conditions. The court heard from the parties on their opinions on the potential order and on potential relief from this court. The court urged stakeholders that if they plan to object to any proposed releases under Judge Hidalgo's order, they do so by April 3, 2020. The State-Intervenors informed the court that they would be filing a response to the motion for a temporary restraining order on April 1, 2020. The court waived any obligation for a response to that filing, and schedules the next teleconference for April 3, 2020, at 11 A.M. C.D.T. 05/28/2020	160	Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Status conference held on May 28, 2020. The court, the parties, and interested nonparties discussed the status of efforts to hold prompt bail hearings over Zoom or by telephone given the limited availability of courtrooms. This court will hold another conference on the status of greatly expanding these efforts, and on the best approach to possible continued settlement negotiations, on June 4, 2020. Chief Public Defender Bunin agreed to encourage the defense bar to file prompt motions for bail hearings, and Administrative Judge Ritchie agreed to encourage the other Harris County felony judges to use technology to conduct bail hearings even when they do not have access to their courtrooms. This court informed Administrative Judge Ritchie that federal courtroom space is available for bail hearings if it would be helpful. The parties and the court also discussed the proposed scheduling order, which the court will enter with the addition of the monthly conferences described on the record. All conferences and oral arguments will be by Zoom unless otherwise ordered. 06/04/2020	166	Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Status conference held on June 4, 2020. The court granted the plaintiffs' motion, (Docket Entry No. 142), to limit the parties and interested nonparties required weekly updates to include only: the population of felony pretrial arrestees in the Harris County Jail; the number of arrestees and workers in the Jail who have positive COVID-19 test results; and the number with pending test results. The court received a report from the parties and interested nonparties on the status of efforts to significantly expand remote, formal, individualized bail hearings. Administrative Judge Ritchie agreed to work with the Sheriff and other felony judges to hold remote hearings at least four days per week, and to hold at least twelve hearings simultaneously during the time allotted for those hearings. Administrative Judge Ritchie agreed that the felony judges could designate their homes as courtrooms during remote hearings if necessary. In addition, until June 11, 2020, Administrative Judge Ritchie agreed to work with his colleagues to try automatically scheduling formal bail hearings for defendants who are arguably eligible for pretrial release on a personal bondeven if the District Attorney disputes that eligibility under Executive Order GA-13 or other applicable orders or laws after potentially eligible defendants are denied personal bonds at initial post arrest proceedings. The hearings for these defendants will be scheduled to happen promptly within days of the initial denials of pretrial release on personal bonds, or as soon as possible if a potentially eligible defendant has already been waiting in the backlog. No formal motion or request for a formal hearing will be required. The parties and interested nonparties in this case will reconvene for a status conference in this court via Zoom on June 11, 2020, at 1:30 p.m.. Appearances: Elizabeth Rossi, Murray Fogler, Victoria Jimenez, Melissa Spinks, Kathryn Kase, Michael Gervais, Joseph Grinstein, Alec Karakatsanis, Peter Steffensen, Neal Manne, Scott Durfee, Judge Ritche, Kim Ogg, Erica Hudson, Trevor Zel, Alex Bunin Steven Diver and Mark Thesson. 06/11/2020	170	MOTION to Intervene by Dwight Russell, filed. Motion Docket Date 7/2/2020. (Attachments: # 1 Cover Letter, # 2 Envelope) (scastillo, 1) (Entered: 06/11/2020)

06/11/2020	175	AMENDED Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Status conference held on June 11, 2020. The court heard an update on the status of efforts to set formal individualized bail-determination hearings promptly, for both new arrestees and for those who were arrested earlier and have been in jail. All arrestees are entitled to formal individualized bail-determination hearings whether or not they are eligible for release on personal bonds. That said, priority in scheduling prompt hearings, without the need for counsel's or the detainee's motion or request, is given first to those new arrestees and the backlog of detainees arrested before the new procedures were begun, who may be eligible for pretrial release on personal bonds, and those who may be eligible for release because of good-time credits. Prioritized prompt automatically scheduled hearings will be set and held even if there is a dispute as to eligibility for release and even if a personal bond was denied in an informal hearing. This prioritization is intended to reduce the jail population to address the grave public health risks from COVID-19. The plaintiffs had no objection, while recognizing that other arrestees, who may not be facially eligible for pretrial release on personal bonds, are also entitled to prompt formal individualized bail-determination hearings, even if their lawyers have not filed a motion requesting one. The Sheriff agreed to circulate updated lists of all felony pretrial detainees who may be eligible for pretrial release on personal bonds under Executive Order GA-13 and other applicable orders and laws, even if there is a dispute as to eligibility and even if release on a personal bond was previously denied in an informal hearing. These lists will include new arrestees and the backlog of detainees who have not yet had a formal bail determination hearing, even if they had an informal hearing. The lists will also include those who may be eligible for release on good-time credits based on recent state-court decisions. As to those in the good-time category, the list will include what court each defendant is in and whether a motion has been filed seeking his or her release on the basis of good-time credits. The Sheriff will circulate the lists to all parties and those interested nonparties who have requested them, including the Harris County felony district judges, the District Attorney, the Chief Public Defender, the president of the Harris County Criminal Lawyers Association, the Texas Attorney General, and this court. Harris County Felony District Judge Brian Warren agreed to contact prosecutors and defense attorneys to inquire about holding prompt individualized bail-determination hearings for pretrial felony detainees on his docket who may be eligible for pretrial release on personal bonds, even if eligibility is disputed and even if informal hearings have been held. Judge Warren will also advise his fellow felony judges about best practices for holding prompt formal individualized bail-determination hearings for all felony pretrial detainees during the pandemic. The president of the Harris County Criminal Lawyers Association, Mr. Mark Thiessen, agreed to post to the Association's website or listserv the lists of pretrial felony detainees who may be eligible for release on personal bonds, again, even if eligibility is disputed and even if bonds have been denied in earlier informal hearings. Mr. Thiessen will encourage private defense counsel to look for their clients on the lists and request formal bail hearings accordingly. Chief Public Defender Alex Bunin will provide similar support to members of his staff. The court encouraged the parties and interested nonparties to confer on defining and listing the violent convictions or charges that may disqualify a felony pretrial detainee for pretrial release on a personal bond under Executive Order GA-13 or other applicable orders or laws. Going forward, the court, the parties, and the interested nonparties will convene for weekly status conferences via Zoom on Thursdays at 1:30 p.m. CDT. Appearances: Michael Gervais, Joseph Grienstein, Alec Karakatsanis, Neal Manne, Elizabeth Rossi, Peter Steffensen, Melissa Spinks, Murray Fogler, Victoria Jimenez, Adam Biggs, Eric Hudson, Scott Durfee, Kathryn Kase, Judge Warren, Judge Ritchie, Mark Thiessen, Stephen Driver, Sarah Wood, Alex Bunin, Kim Ogg, David Mitcham.(Court Reporter: H. 06/18/2020	189	Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Status conference held on June 18, 2020. The court heard an update on the status of efforts by the felony district judges to automatically and promptly set formal individualized bail-determination hearings, with counsel present, on the record, for both new arrestees and for those who were arrested earlier and have been detained. The court reiterated that all arrestees are entitled to formal individualized bail-determination hearings, whether or not they are ultimately found eligible for release on bail. The Sheriff's June 19, 2020, weekly report should identify bottlenecks or barriers to automatically setting and promptly holding formal, on the record, individualized bail-determination hearings. The Sheriff agreed to continue sending lists of detainees to Harris County felony district judges and others to help the judges set and hold prompt hearings. The parties and interested nonparties must confer with Harris County Pretrial Services and Judge Hidalgo's counsel to ensure that Pretrial Services shares the PSAs and related information judges use in the bail-determination process with prosecutors, defense lawyers, and other constituents entitled to see them. The June 26, 2020, status conference is reset to June 29, 2020, at 1:30 p.m. CDT. 06/29/2020	198	Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Status conference held on June 29, 2020. The court heard an update on the status of efforts by the felony district judges to automatically and promptly set formal individualized bail-determination hearings, with counsel present, on the record, for both new arrestees and for those who were arrested earlier and have been detained. The parties described communication breakdowns that prevented a timely review of felony detainees who are facially eligible for release. The court ordered the following: by June 30, 2020, the Sheriff must create an updated list of all felony pretrial detainees facially eligible for release who have not yet received an individualized hearing, and send the list to all parties and interested nonparties. Within 48 hours of receiving that list, the District Attorney's Office and the State-intervenors must review the list and respond with the names of any detainees for whom they have objections to release. Upon receipt of that information, the district judges must promptly release those detainees for whom there are no disputes as to the criteria for release and for whom there are no other reasons for continued detention, such as immigration holds. As to those who are the subject of dispute as to whether the individual pretrial detainee could meet the criteria for release, if there is no dispute, no other hold, and bond is informally denied, the detainee is entitled to an individualized, evidential, counseled, formal bail determination hearing to be set on a prompt basis. But those who are not promptly released are still entitled to a prompt, formal, and evidential bail determination hearing to resolve the dispute or determine if other grounds support or weigh against bail. This includes those not on the 525 person list, who may or may not be clearly eligible for a personal bond, or whose eligibility is disputed, who are entitled to an on the record, counseled, individual bail determination hearing, and a finding as to why the bail conditions cannot be sufficiently fashioned to ward against new criminal conduct or failure to appear. The slow program this past week is apparently due to way the Sheriff sends information on the 525 inmates to the District Attorney and other parties, who all deserve fast attention. Because it was sent in a way that masked the large amount of embedded information, important information about individual detainees in specific courts was not followed up on by the DA. Now that the DA understands how the information will be transmitted in the future, no such delays should be encountered. These steps should reduce the jail population in accordance with the legal limits on releasing pretrial felony detainees, convicted of nothing, yet left in limbo in the jail and exposed to a high risk of catching and spreading the of virus. The spread is, of course, not only to other inmates, but to the guards who come in and out each day to guard, tend to, feed, clean up after, and provide medications to the detainees who are symptomatic or have tested positive. The guards return home each night to their unsuspecting families. And the cycle of contagion continues. Pretrial detention, particularly for a minor, nonviolent offense, is never intended to be a death sentence. Our charge is to make sure that does not happen from the policies specifying and omitting steps that might have avoided dire consequences. The next status conference is set for Monday, July 6, at 1:30 p.m. C.D.T. Appearances: Adam Biggs, Murray Fogler, Victoria Jimenez, Melissa Spinks, Kathryn Kase, Scott Durfee, Kim Ogg, Judge Herb Ritchie, Michael Gervais, Alec Karakatsanis, Peter Steffensen, Neal Manne, George Van Fleet, Anastasia Liounakos, Bradford Hardin, Matthew Diggs and Alex Bunin.(Court Reporter: K. 07/02/2020		The court withdraws the minute entry dated June 29, 2020, (Docket Entry No. 198), and substitutes the revised minute entry: Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Status conference held on June 29, 2020. The court heard an update on the status of efforts by the felony district judges to promptly set formal individualized bail-determination hearings, with counsel present, on the record, for both new arrestees and for those who were arrested earlier and have been detained. The parties described communication breakdowns that prevented a timely review of felony pretrial detainees who are facially eligible for release. The court memorializes the agreement among the stakeholders as to procedures that would work toward the shared goal of safely reducing the jail population, consistent with state orders and governing case and statutory law. The parties agreed to the following procedures to work toward the shared goal of safely reducing the jail population, consistent with state orders, governing case and statutory law, and public safety: by June 30, 2020, the Sheriff will create an updated list of felony pretrial detainees whose charges and criminal history appear to make them facially eligible for release, who have not yet received an individualized hearing, and send the list to parties and interested nonparties. Within 48 hours of receiving that list, the District Attorney's Office will review the list and respond with the names of detainees for whom they have objections to release. Upon receipt of that information, the district judges will review the lists of detainees for whom there are no disputes as to the criteria for release and for whom there are no other reasons for continued detention, such as immigration holds, and consider whether they can be released on bond with no or reduced financial conditions. As to those who are the subject of dispute as to whether the individual pretrial detainee could meet the criteria for release, if there is no dispute, no other hold, and bond is informally denied, the detainee is entitled to an individualized, evidentiary, counseled, formal bail-determination hearing to be set on a prompt basis. The slow program this past week is apparently due to way the Sheriff sends information on those detainees who it believes appear to meet the criteria for pretrial release on personal bonds to the District Attorney and other parties. Because it was sent in a way that masked the large amount of embedded information, important information about individual detainees in specific courts was not followed up on by the DA. The Sheriff and District Attorney's Office agreed to steps to attempt to avoid that problem. Pretrial detention is never intended to be a death sentence. Our charge is to make sure that does not happen. The next status conference is set for Monday, July 6, at 1:30 p.m. C.D.T. (leddins, 4) (Entered: 07/02/2020)

07/06/2020	210	Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Status conference held on July 6, 2020. The court noted that the previous minute entry, (Docket Entry No. 198), was intended to reflect agreements among the stakeholders participating in the weekly status conferences to achieve the shared goal of safely reducing the Harris County prison population in order to better protect the health and safety of the detainees, jail staff, and the community. The court heard an update on the status of efforts by the parties to determine and release those whose eligibility for release is undisputed and to set formal individualized bail-determination hearings, with counsel present, on the record for others. The plaintiffs told the court that they would like to seek limited discovery from the Harris County district judges to advance the case. The request is opposed. By July 10, 2020, the plaintiffs must file their proposed discovery requests, including written interrogatories, document requests, and deposition notices. Opposing parties may submit objections to these requests by July 17, 2020. A Zoom hearing is set for July 24, 2020, at 2:00 p.m. C.D.T. This replaces the July 31 hearing previously set. 07/24/2020	225	Minute entry for proceedings before the Hon. Lee H. Rosenthal. Status conference held on July 24, 2020. The court heard an update from the parties on the voluntary efforts to promptly set formal individualized bail-determination hearings, with counsel present, on the record, for both new arrestees and for those who were arrested earlier and have been detained. The court heard argument on the plaintiffs motion for expedited discovery. (Docket Entry No. 211). The court granted the motion, finding that the plaintiffs have shown good cause to proceed because of the need for a reliable record to support the legal and factual issues in this case and the persistence of the COVID-19 threat for the jail population, jail employees, and the greater community. The court ordered more limited discovery than requested, as stated on the record. Counsel for the plaintiffs will submit a proposed order reflecting those limits to the court. The next status conference is scheduled for August 7, 2020, at 2 P.M. on Zoom. Appearances: Adam Biggs, Courtney Corbello, Elizabeth Rossi, Murray Fogler, Victoria Jimenez, Rachel Fraser, Melissa Spinks, Kathryn Kase, Scott Durfee, Joseph Grinstein, Alec Karakatsanis, Neal Manne, Allan Van Fleet, Bradford Hardin, David Mitcham, Alex Bunin, Mark Thiessen.(Court Reporter: K.
