

David S. Casey, Jr., SBN 60768
dcasey@cglaw.com

Gayle M. Blatt, SBN 122048
gmb@cglaw.com

CASEY GERRY SCHENK FRANCAVILLA BLATT & PENFIELD, LLP
110 Laurel Street
San Diego, CA 92101
Telephone: (619) 238-1811

Arthur H. Bryant, SBN 208365
abryant@baileyglasser.com

BAILEY & GLASSER, LLP
1999 Harrison Street, Suite 660
Oakland, CA 94612
Telephone: (510) 272-8000

Attorneys for Plaintiff and the proposed classes

[Additional counsel on signature page]

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

MADISON FISK, RAQUEL CASTRO,
GRETA VISS, CLARE BOTTERILL,
MAYA BROSCHE, HELEN BAUER,
CARINA CLARK, NATALIE FIGUEROA,
ERICA GROTEGEER, KAITLIN HERI,
OLIVIA PETRINE, AISHA WATT,
KAMRYN WHITWORTH, SARA ABSTEN,
ELEANOR DAVIES, ALEXA DIETZ, and LARISA SULCS, individually and on behalf of all those similarly situated,

Plaintiffs,

v.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY and SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY,

Defendants.

Case No. 3:22-cv-00173-TWR-MSB

SECOND AMENDED CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

Judge: Honorable Todd W. Robinson
Courtroom: 3A

Mag. Judge: Hon. Michael S. Berg
Courtroom: 2C

Complaint Filed: February 10, 2022
Trial date: Not set.

DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	3
FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS.....	36
TITLE IX BARS SDSU FROM DISCRIMINATING AGAINST ITS FEMALE STUDENT-ATHLETES ON THE BASIS OF THEIR SEX.....	36
Title IX’s Equal Athletic Financial Aid Requirements	38
Title IX’s Equal Athletic Treatment and Benefit Requirements	41
Title IX’s Prohibition Against Retaliation.....	42
SDSU HAS BEEN AND IS DISCRIMINATING AGAINST ITS FEMALE STUDENT-ATHLETES ON THE BASIS OF THEIR SEX.	44
SDSU’s Violations of Title IX’s Equal Athletic Financial Aid Requirements	44
SDSU’s Violations of Title IX’s Equal Athletic Treatment and Benefits Requirements	49
SDSU’s Violation of Title IX’s Prohibition Against Retaliation.....	57
CLASS ALLEGATIONS	61
Denial of Equal Allocation of Athletic Financial Aid	66
Denial of Equal Athletic Treatment and Benefits.....	67
Retaliation	69
PRAYER FOR RELIEF	70

INTRODUCTION

1
2 1. This is a sex discrimination class action against San Diego State
3 University (“SDSU”) for violating Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972
4 (“Title IX”) by depriving its female varsity student-athletes of equal athletic financial 5 aid, denying them equal athletic benefits and treatment, and retaliating against them
6 because some of them sued SDSU for violating Title IX.

7 2. SDSU has not paid its female varsity student-athletes equal athletic 8 financial aid for over a decade, failed to pay them over $1,200,000 in equal athletic 9 financial aid in the 2019-20 and 2020-21 academic years, did not pay them equal 10 athletic financial in the 2021-22 academic year, and is not paying them equal athletic 11 financial aid this academic year.

12 3. This lawsuit seeks to make SDSU pay its female varsity student-athletes 13 the equal athletic financial aid they have been and are being deprived of—and to 14 require SDSU to provide them with equal athletic financial aid in the future.

15 4. SDSU also has not provided its female varsity student-athletes with 16 treatment and benefits equal to those it has provided its male varsity student-athletes
17 for over a decade and, instead, has given its female varsity student-athletes much worse
18 treatment and benefits.

19 5. This lawsuit also aims to force SDSU to treat its female and male student-
20 athletes equally going forward.

21 6. Finally, this lawsuit seeks to hold SDSU accountable for retaliating
22 against its female varsity student-athletes because some of them sued SDSU for 23 violating the rights of all of them under Title IX.

24 7. Shortly after this lawsuit was filed, SDSU informed the Plaintiffs who are 25 current varsity student-athletes—at a quickly-called Zoom meeting with all of their 26 teammates—that it was not happy with them because they filed this suit.

27 8. During that meeting, SDSU also threatened those Plaintiffs and the other
28 team members by reminding them that being a varsity student-athlete was not a right,
29

1 suggesting that those who brought, participated in, or supported the lawsuit—including
2 Plaintiffs—could be removed from the team altogether.

3 9. That action both adversely affected those Plaintiffs and deterred other
4 female varsity student-athletes from helping them fight sex discrimination at SDSU.

5 10. Indeed, several members of the women's track and field team who had 6 been considering joining the lawsuit told Plaintiffs they would not join because of the 7 comments made on the Zoom call.

8 11. When Plaintiffs asked SDSU to take specific steps to minimize the harm
9 caused by this illegal retaliation, SDSU refused.

10 12. This lawsuit, therefore, seeks to make SDSU pay damages to its varsity
11 female student-athletes for retaliating against them in violation of Title IX and to 12 prohibit SDSU from violating Title IX by retaliating against its varsity female student-13 athletes in the future.

14 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

15 13. This action arises under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, 16 20 U.S.C. §§ 1681 et seq., and the regulations and policies promulgated pursuant to 17 that law.

18 14. This Court has jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' federal law claims pursuant to 19 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1343(a)(3), and 1343(a)(4).

20 15. Declaratory relief is authorized pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 2201 and 2202
21 to obtain the correct interpretation of the legal requirements described in this 22 Complaint, which is necessary and appropriate to determine the parties' respective 23 rights and duties.

24 16. Venue is proper in the United States District Court for the Southern 25 District of California pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) because SDSU is located in San 26 Diego, California, which is within this Court's jurisdiction. In addition, the events
27 giving rise to the Complaint occurred in San Diego, California, within this Court's 28 jurisdiction.

THE PARTIES

Plaintiffs

17. Plaintiffs are past and current female varsity student-athletes at SDSU.

18. At all times relevant to this case, varsity student-athletes at SDSU were and are eligible for athletic financial aid up to and including a full scholarship, a cost-of-living stipend, summer aid, fifth-year aid, and NCAA Special Assistance Funds if appropriate.

19. SDSU's average cost of attendance for in-state residents from 2018-19 to 2021-22 was $28,142 per year. A full athletic scholarship at SDSU, which includes a cost-of-living stipend, would have covered the entire cost of attendance.

20. SDSU's average cost of attendance for non-residents from 2018-19 to 2021-22 was $39,230 per year. A full athletic scholarship at SDSU, which includes a cost-of-living stipend, would have covered the entire cost of attendance.

21. The NCAA does not impose a limit on the dollar amount of aid that can be offered for any sport. Instead, the NCAA limits the number of scholarships that may be awarded for each sport.

22. The NCAA's scholarship limits work in two different ways: head-count sports must award full athletic scholarships on a per-athlete basis; equivalency sports may split up to a full athletic scholarship among many athletes.

23. SDSU imposes additional dollar-amount limitations on coaches of all of the women's sports and some of the men's sports.

24. This intentional decision—not dictated by the NCAA's rules—at least partially explains why female student-athletes at SDSU receive smaller individual awards than their male counterparts and a disproportionately small amount of overall aid.

25. For example, per NCAA rules, before its elimination, the women's rowing team was permitted to have the equivalent of twenty athletic scholarships awarded to

1 its student-athletes, while the men's football team was and is permitted to award
2 eighty-five athletic scholarships to eighty-five student athletes.

3 26. At SDSU, the coach of the women's rowing team was typically given a 4 dollar amount of athletic financial aid that equaled fifteen in-state scholarships and five 5 out of state scholarships.

6 27. This dollar cap, imposed by SDSU, meant the coach could offer only that 7 dollar amount of aid to female student-athletes on the rowing team—with some 8 receiving partial athletic scholarships and some receiving full athletic scholarships.
9 These same caps were placed on head-count sports, like women's golf, which was also 10 given a dollar-amount limitation rather than total number of full scholarships
11 limitation.

12 28. However, the same dollar limits were not placed, for example, on the 13 men's football team. As such, aid to male student-athletes on the football team was not 14 artificially capped by SDSU's dollar amount. Instead, aid to those male student-
15 athletes was capped only by the NCAA's limit of eighty-five scholarships, in the full 16 amount of out-of-state cost of attendance.

17 29. SDSU's monetary cap on the amount of athletic financial aid women's 18 sports were permitted to award and resulted in unequal opportunities for athletic 19 financial aid for female student-athletes, including Plaintiffs, and less overall athletic 20 financial aid being awarded to female student-athletes, including Plaintiffs.

21 30. None of the Plaintiffs received all of the athletic financial aid for which 22 she was eligible at SDSU.

23 31. If SDSU complied with Title IX and granted athletic financial aid to its 24 female varsity student-athletes proportional to the athletic financial aid it granted to 25 SDSU's male varsity student-athletes, each of the Plaintiffs would have had an 26 opportunity to receive her fair share of equal athletic financial aid.

27 32. Instead, each of the Plaintiffs was denied the opportunity to receive equal
28 financial aid, despite Title IX's express protection of that opportunity. See, e.g., 34
29

1 C.F.R. §106.37(c) (providing that, when a school offers athletic financial awards, it
2 “must provide reasonable opportunities for such awards for members of each sex in 3 proportion to the number of students of each sex participating in interscholastic or 4 intercollegiate athletics” (emphasis added)).

5 33. Similarly, each of the Plaintiffs was forced to confront a sex-based barrier
6 to receiving athletic financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that 7 made it more difficult for female student-athletes to receive athletic financial aid than 8 it was for their male counterparts.

9 34. Put simply, compared to the male student-athletes at SDSU, each of the 10 Plaintiffs was forced to compete for athletic financial aid on an unequal basis because 11 of her sex.

12 35. In addition to being deprived of the equal opportunity to receive athletic 13 financial aid, each of the Plaintiffs was actually denied her fair share of equal athletic 14 financial aid.

15 36. If SDSU complied with Title IX and granted athletic financial aid to its 16 female varsity student-athletes proportional to the athletic financial aid it granted to 17 SDSU’s male varsity student-athletes, each of the Plaintiffs would have received more 18 athletic financial aid than she did.

19 37. Instead, as set forth below, each of the Plaintiffs received a smaller
20 financial-aid award than she would have received if SDSU had awarded financial aid
21 in compliance with Title IX.

22 38. If SDSU complied with Title IX and granted athletic financial aid to its 23 female varsity student-athletes proportional to the athletic financial aid it granted to 24 SDSU’s male varsity student-athletes, each of the Plaintiffs would have been free of 25 second-class treatment in the allocation of financial aid at SDSU.

26 39. Instead, each of the Plaintiffs was forced to endure an environment in 27 which her school actively discriminated against her because of her sex.
28
29

49. During her time on the rowing team, Madison received partial athletic financial aid. She received a total of $800 her freshman year, $5,800 her sophomore year, $10,800 her junior year, and $10,800 for her senior year. Madison received a total of $28,200 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

50. Madison was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it was for male student-athletes;
- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

51. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Madison suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Madison was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and, given SDSU's commitment to honor her financial aid after eliminating the women's rowing team, she was eligible for aid

1 in 2021-22, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial aid in presently
2 unknown amounts.

3 52. Madison was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the
4 other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU’s
5 retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and
6 other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case
7 (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was
8 and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely
9 affected.

10 Raquel Castro

11 53. Raquel Castro is currently a senior at SDSU majoring in Kinesiology. She 12 is a resident of California for purposes of tuition at SDSU.

13 54. Raquel was a member of the women’s varsity rowing team until SDSU
14 discontinued the team in Spring 2021.

15 55. Raquel trained hard throughout high school so she could pursue rowing as 16 a varsity sport in college.

17 56. During her time on the rowing team, Raquel received partial athletic 18 financial aid. She received a total of $800 in athletic financial aid for books each year.
19 Raquel received a total of $3,200 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

20 57. Raquel was harmed by SDSU’s failure to provide proportional athletic 21 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 22 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
23 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 24 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
25 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
26 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
27 was for male student-athletes;

- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

58. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Raquel suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Raquel she was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and, given SDSU's commitment to honor her financial aid after eliminating the women's rowing team, she was eligible for aid in 2021-22 and 2022-23, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown amounts.

59. Raquel was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Greta Viss

60. Greta Viss is a graduate of SDSU with a major in Psychology and a minor Biology. She was a resident of California when she attended SDSU and was a resident for purposes of tuition at SDSU.

61. Greta was a member of the women's varsity rowing team until SDSU discontinued the women's varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.

62. Greta has been playing sports since she was four years old. Greta walked onto the women's rowing team at SDSU.

63. During her time on the rowing team, Greta received partial athletic financial aid during her freshman and sophomore years. She received $7,000 in athletic financial aid in her freshman year and $17,000 in her sophomore year.

64. Greta was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it was for male student-athletes;
- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

65. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Greta suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Greta was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; and she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40.

1 66. Greta was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other
2 Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU’s retaliation—
3 additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other
4 student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g.,
5 by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is
6 discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

7 Clare Botterill

8 67. Clare Botterill is currently a senior at SDSU majoring in Journalism and 9 Media Studies. She came to SDSU from Alberta, Canada, to be a part of the women’s 10 varsity rowing team and, therefore, is a non-resident for purposes of tuition at SDSU.

11 68. Clare was a member of the women’s varsity rowing team until SDSU
12 discontinued the women’s varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.

13 69. Clare started rowing after being a long-time soccer player. After her first
14 summer rowing, Clare loved the sport and dedicated herself to becoming good enough
15 to earn a spot on the Canadian national team and, subsequently, a spot on the team at 16 SDSU.

17 70. During her time on the rowing team, Clare received partial athletic 18 financial aid. She received $38,000 in athletic financial aid in her junior year but did
19 not receive any athletic financial aid as a sophomore, which was her first year at SDSU.

20 71. Clare was harmed by SDSU’s failure to provide proportional athletic
21 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 22 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
23 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 24 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
25 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
26 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
27 was for male student-athletes;
- 28

- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

72. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Clare suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Clare was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and, given SDSU's commitment to honor her financial aid after eliminating the women's rowing team, she was eligible for aid in 2021-22 and 2022-23, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown amounts.

73. Clare was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Maya Brosch

74. Maya Brosch graduated from SDSU in May 2021. She was a resident of California for purposes of tuition at SDSU.

75. Maya was a member of the women's varsity track and field team until she graduated in May 2021.

76. During her time on the track and field team, Maya received partial athletic financial aid. In her freshman and sophomore years, Maya received $400 per semester in athletic financial aid for books and $250 per semester in athletic financial aid for tuition. In her junior and senior years, Maya received $400 per semester in athletic financial aid for books and $3,860 per semester in athletic financial aid for tuition. Maya received a total of $19,640 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

77. Maya was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it was for male student-athletes;
- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

78. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Maya suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Maya was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of

1 $2,204.03; and she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female
2 student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40.

3 79. Maya was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other
4 Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU’s retaliation—
5 additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other
6 student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g.,
7 by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is
8 discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

9 Olivia Petrine

10 80. Olivia Petrine is currently a junior at SDSU majoring in Computer
11 Science. She came to SDSU from Arizona to be a Division I varsity athlete and,
12 therefore, is a non-resident for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

13 81. Olivia was a member of the women’s varsity rowing team until SDSU
14 discontinued the women’s varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.

15 82. Olivia started rowing in high school and loved the sport from the first
16 practice. Rowing provided Olivia with the ability to learn how to work as a team
17 member and be a leader as well.

18 83. During her time on the rowing team, Olivia received partial athletic 19 financial aid. She received $400 per semester in athletic financial aid for books. Olivia
20 received a total of $800 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete. She 21 received $800 during the 2021-22 academic year because SDSU honored its 22 commitment to grant her promised aid after eliminating the women’s rowing team.

23 84. Olivia was harmed by SDSU’s failure to provide proportional athletic
24 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 25 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
26 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 27 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic 28 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it was for male student-athletes;

- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

85. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Olivia suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Olivia was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and, given SDSU's commitment to honor her financial aid after eliminating the women's rowing team, she was eligible for aid in 2021-22 and 2022-23, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown amounts; she will remain eligible for such aid in 2023-24 as well.

86. Olivia was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Helen Bauer

87. Helen Bauer graduated from SDSU in May 2022 with a degree in Business Management. She came to SDSU from Seattle, Washington, and, therefore, is a non-resident for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

1 88. Helen was a member of the women's varsity rowing team until SDSU
2 discontinued the women's varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.

3 89. Helen is very passionate about women's fitness and women's 4 opportunities to participate in sports. Helen began rowing in high school. She chose to 5 attend SDSU because it would offer her an opportunity to participate on an up-and-
6 coming varsity Division I rowing team and obtain a quality education. Helen worked 7 her way to becoming team captain in the 2020 season.

8 90. During her freshman and sophomore year, Helen received partial athletic 9 financial aid. During her freshman year she received $10,000 in athletic financial aid.
10 During her sophomore year she received $20,000. Helen received a total of $30,000 in 11 athletic financial aid up to her sophomore year as a student-athlete.

12 91. Helen was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic
13 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 14 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
15 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 16 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
17 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
18 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
19 was for male student-athletes;
- 20 • She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because 21 of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount
22 of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly
23 available information;
- 24 • She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class
25 treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes
26 worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial 27 aid.

1 92. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Helen suffered
 2 can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not
 3 currently public available: Helen was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU
 4 deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity
 5 athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of
 6 $2,204.03; and she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female
 7 student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40.

8 93. Helen was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other
 9 Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU’s retaliation—
 10 additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other
 11 student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., 12 by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is
 13 discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Carina Clark

14 94. Carina Clark graduated from SDSU in May 2022 with a degree in Media
 15 Studies. She came to SDSU from Florida to be a varsity athlete and, therefore, is a 16 non-resident for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

17 95. Carina is a member of the women’s varsity track and field team at SDSU.¹

18 96. Carina has run track for most of her life. Both of Carina’s parents were 19 professional athletes, and they instilled in her a love for sports.

20 97. During her time on the track and field team, Carina received partial athletic 21 financial aid for her senior year only in the amount of $400 per semester. Carina
 22 received a total of $800 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

23 98. Carina was harmed by SDSU’s failure to provide proportional athletic
 24 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

25 ¹ SDSU’s women’s varsity track and field student-athletes are members of three 26 different teams: the indoor track & field team, the outdoor track & field team, and the cross
 27 country team. For the sake of brevity, this Amended Complaint refers to them as members
 28 of SDSU’s women’s track and field team.

- She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it was for male student-athletes;
- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

99. T The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Carina suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Carina was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; and she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and she remained a varsity athlete in 2021-22, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown amounts.

100. During her time on the track and field team, SDSU also discriminated against Carina as a female athlete by failing to provide her equal athletic treatment and benefits.

101. Carina was also harmed because she participated in the Zoom meeting at which SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit.

1 102. As a result of SDSU's retaliatory conduct, Carina was singled out in front
2 of her teammates.

3 103. SDSU's comments, which were directed at her in front of her teammates,
4 were embarrassing, humiliating, and anxiety-provoking.

5 104. Carina was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other
6 Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—
7 additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other
8 student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g.,
9 by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is
10 discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

11 Natalie Figueroa

12 105. Natalie Figueroa is currently a senior at SDSU majoring in Psychology.
13 She is a resident of California for purposes of tuition at SDSU.

14 106. Natalie was a member of the women's varsity rowing team until SDSU
15 discontinued the women's varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.

16 107. Natalie loved being a part of the women's rowing team, and she chose 17 SDSU because she wanted a college with great academic programs and great athletic 18 teams.

19 108. During her time on the rowing team, Natalie did not receive any athletic 20 financial aid.

21 109. Natalie was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic 22 financial aid in at least the following ways:

- 23 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
24 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 25 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
26 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
27 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
28 was for male student-athletes;

- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

110. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Natalie suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Natalie was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and, given SDSU's commitment to honor her financial aid after eliminating the women's rowing team, she was eligible for aid in 2021-22 and 2022-23, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown amounts.

111. Natalie was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Erica Grotegeer

112. Erica Grotegeer is currently a senior at SDSU majoring in Criminal Justice, Sociology, and Journalism. She is a resident of California purposes of tuition at SDSU.

113. Erica is a member of the women's varsity track and field team at SDSU.

114. Erica started participating in track when she was 13 years old, and she loves being an athlete.

115. During her time on the track and field team, Erica has received partial athletic financial aid. She received $3,461 her freshman year, $3,629 her sophomore year, $11,630 her junior year and $19,159 this academic year. Erica received a total of $37,879 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

116. Erica was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it was for male student-athletes;
- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

117. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Erica suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Erica was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female

1 student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and she remained a varsity athlete in 2021-
2 22, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown
3 amounts.

4 118. During her time on the track and field team, SDSU also discriminated
5 against Erica as a female athlete by failing to provide her equal athletic treatment and 6 benefits.

7 119. Erica was also harmed because she participated in the Zoom meeting at 8 which SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit.

9 120. As a result of SDSU's retaliatory conduct, Erica was singled out in front
10 of her teammates.

11 121. SDSU's comments, which were directed at her in front of her teammates,
12 were humiliating, and anxiety-provoking.

13 122. Erica was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other
14 Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—
15 additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other
16 student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., 17 by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is
18 discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

19 Kaitlin Heri

20 123. Kaitlin Heri graduated from SDSU in May 2022 with a degree in Business.
21 She was a resident of California for purposes of tuition at SDSU.

22 124. Kaitlin is a member of the women's varsity track and field team at SDSU.

23 125. Kaitlin has been an athlete for most of her life. Kaitlin chose SDSU
24 because of its pole-vaulting program, and she loves the people she has been able to 25 meet and the experiences she has had as a varsity student-athlete.

26 126. During her time on the track and field team, Kaitlin has received partial 27 athletic financial aid. She received $3,000 her freshman year, she received $8,800 her
28 sophomore year. She received $13,200 per year in her junior and senior years. Kaitlin
29

1 is currently receiving fifth year aid in the amount of $26,400. Kaitlin received a total
2 of $64,600 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

3 127. Kaitlin was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic
4 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 5 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
6 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 7 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
8 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
9 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
10 was for male student-athletes;
- 11 • She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because
12 of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount
13 of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly
14 available information;
- 15 • She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class
16 treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes
17 worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial
18 aid.

19 128. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Kaitlin suffered
20 can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not
21 currently public available: Kaitlin was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU
22 deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity
23 athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of 24 $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female
25 student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and she remained a varsity athlete in 2021-
26 22, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown
27 amounts.
28

129. During her time on the track and field team, SDSU also discriminated against Kaitlin as a female athlete by failing to provide her equal athletic treatment and benefits.

130. Kaitlin was also harmed because she participated in the Zoom meeting at which SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit.

131. As a result of SDSU's retaliatory conduct, Kaitlin was singled out in front of her teammates.

132. SDSU's comments, which were directed at her in front of her teammates, were embarrassing, humiliating, and anxiety-provoking.

133. Kaitlin was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU’s retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Aisha Watt

134. Aisha Watt is currently a senior at SDSU majoring in Kinesiology. She came to SDSU from Seattle, Washington, and, therefore, is a non-resident for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

135. Aisha is a member of the women's varsity track and field team at SDSU.

136. Aisha loves being a student-athlete because it allows her to keep improving herself and achieving accomplishments that she never thought possible.

137. During her time on the track and field team, Aisha received partial financial aid. She received 10% of tuition and $800 for books, per year for her freshman and sophomore years. She received $3,000 in athletic aid during the 2021-22 academic year. She is receiving $9,600 in athletic financial aid for each semester in the current academic year, 2022-23. Aisha has received a total of $14,200 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

1 138. Aisha was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic
2 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 3 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
4 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 5 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
6 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
7 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
8 was for male student-athletes;
- 9 • She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because
10 of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount
11 of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly
12 available information;
- 13 • She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class
14 treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes
15 worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial
16 aid.

17 139. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Aisha suffered
18 can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not
19 currently public available: Aisha was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU
20 deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity
21 athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of 22 $1,874.40; and she remained a varsity athlete in 2021-22 and 2022-23, when SDSU
23 deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown amounts.

24 140. During her time on the track and field team, SDSU also discriminated 25 against Aisha as a female athlete by failing to provide her equal athletic treatment and 26 benefits.

27 141. Aisha was also harmed because she participated in the Zoom meeting at
28 which SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit.

1 142. As a result of SDSU's retaliatory conduct, Aisha was singled out in front
2 of her teammates.

3 143. SDSU's comments, which were directed at her in front of her teammates,
4 were embarrassing, humiliating, and anxiety-provoking.

5 144. Aisha was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other
6 Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—
7 additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other
8 student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g.,
9 by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is
10 discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

11 Kamryn Whitworth

12 145. Kamryn Whitworth graduated from SDSU in May 2021 with a degree in 13 Communication. She was a resident of California for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

14 146. Kamryn was a member of the women's varsity rowing team until SDSU
15 discontinued the women's varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.

16 147. Kamryn discovered the sport of rowing when she was 13 years old. She 17 gave her heart and soul to her rowing career, and that dedication made it possible for 18 her to be a varsity rower at SDSU.

19 148. During her time on the rowing team, Kamryn received partial athletic 20 financial aid. In her freshman and sophomore years, she received $800 per year. In her
21 junior and senior years, she received $5,800 per year. Kamryn received a total of 22 $13,200 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

23 149. Kamryn was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic
24 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 25 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
26 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 27 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic 28 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it was for male student-athletes;

- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

150. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Kamryn suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Kamryn was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40.

151. Kamryn was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU’s retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Sara Absten

152. Sara Absten graduated from SDSU in May 2022 with a degree in Economics. Sara came to SDSU from the East Coast and, therefore, was a non-resident for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

1 153. Sara is a member of the women's varsity track and field team at SDSU.

2 154. Sara loves being a track and field athlete because it makes her proud to set
3 goals for herself and achieve those goals. Sara chose to come to SDSU for track and 4 field because the head coach is a former Olympian.

5 155. During her time on the track and field team, Sara has received partial 6 athletic financial aid. The amount of athletic financial aid has fluctuated significantly
7 from semester to semester; some semesters she received almost full tuition and other
8 semesters she only received 10% of the cost of attendance.

9 156. Sara was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic
10 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 11 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
12 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 13 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
14 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
15 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
16 was for male student-athletes;
- 17 • She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because
18 of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount
19 of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly
20 available information;
- 21 • She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class
22 treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes
23 worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial
24 aid.

25 157. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Sara suffered can 26 be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not 27 currently public available: Sara was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU deprived 28 each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity athlete in 29

1 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of
2 $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female
3 student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and she remained a varsity athlete in 2021-
4 22, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown
5 amounts.

6 158. During her time on the track and field team, SDSU also discriminated
7 against Sara as a female athlete by failing to provide her equal athletic treatment and 8 benefits.

9 159. Sara was also harmed because she participated in the Zoom meeting at 10 which SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit.

11 160. As a result of SDSU's retaliatory conduct, Sara was singled out in front of 12 her teammates.

13 161. SDSU's comments, which were directed at her in front of her teammates,
14 were embarrassing, humiliating, and anxiety-provoking.

15 162. Sara was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other
16 Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—
17 additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other
18 student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g.,
19 by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is
20 discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

21 Eleanor Davies

22 163. Eleanor Davies is currently a sophomore in college. She attended SDSU
23 majoring in Business Marketing until transferring in January 2022, after SDSU
24 eliminated her sport. She came to SDSU from Connecticut and, therefore, was a non-
25 resident for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

26 164. Eleanor was a member of the women's varsity rowing team until SDSU
27 discontinued the women's varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.
28
29

1 165. During her time on the rowing team, Eleanor received partial athletic
2 financial aid. She received $7,500 a semester in athletic financial aid. Eleanor received
3 a total of $22,500 in athletic financial aid at SDSU.

4 166. Eleanor was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic
5 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 6 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
7 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 8 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
9 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
10 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
11 was for male student-athletes;
- 12 • She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because
13 of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount
14 of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly
15 available information;
- 16 • She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class
17 treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes
18 worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial
19 aid.

20 167. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Eleanor suffered
21 can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not
22 currently public available: Eleanor was a varsity athlete 2020-21, when SDSU
23 deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40.

24 168. Eleanor was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the
25 other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's
26 retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and
27 other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case
28 (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was 29

1 and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely
2 affected.

3 Alexa Dietz

4 169. Alexa Dietz is graduated from SDSU in May 2022 with a degree in 5 Communication. Alexa came to SDSU from Washington and therefore, was a non-
6 resident for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

7 170. Alexa was a member of the women's varsity rowing team until SDSU
8 discontinued the women's varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.

9 171. During her time on the rowing team, Alexa received partial athletic 10 financial aid. She received $800 her freshman year and $8,800 per year in both her 11 sophomore and junior years. Alexa received a total of $18,400 in athletic financial as 12 during her freshman to junior years.

13 172. Alexa was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic
14 financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- 15 • She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal
16 athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- 17 • She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic
18 financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that
19 made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it
20 was for male student-athletes;
- 21 • She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because
22 of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount
23 of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly
24 available information;
- 25 • She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class
26 treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes
27 worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial
28 aid.

173. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Alexa suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Alexa was a varsity athlete in 2018-19, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,608.84; she was a varsity athlete in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and, given SDSU's commitment to honor her financial aid after eliminating the women's rowing team, she was eligible for aid in 2021-22, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown amounts.

174. Alexa was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU’s retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Larisa Sulcs

175. Larisa Sulcs is currently a senior at SDSU. She came to SDSU from Seattle, Washington and, therefore, is a non-resident for the purposes of tuition at SDSU.

176. Larisa was a member of the women's varsity rowing team until SDSU discontinued the women's varsity rowing team in Spring 2021.

177. During her time on the rowing team, Larisa received partial athletic financial aid. She received $7,600 her freshman year, $15,200 her sophomore year per semester in athletic financial aid for books. Larisa has received a total of $22,800 in athletic financial aid as a varsity student-athlete.

178. Larisa was harmed by SDSU's failure to provide proportional athletic financial aid to female student-athletes in at least the following ways:

- She was denied the opportunity to compete for and receive equal athletic financial aid because of her sex;
- She was forced to confront a sex-based barrier to receiving athletic financial aid that male student-athletes did not confront and that made it more difficult for her to receive athletic financial aid than it was for male student-athletes;
- She received a smaller athletic financial aid award, simply because of her sex, in an amount that exceeded $1.00, but the precise amount of her damages cannot currently be determined from publicly available information;
- She was forced to endure degrading and stigmatizing second-class treatment as SDSU intentionally treated female student-athletes worse than their male counterparts when it came to athletic financial aid.

179. The amount of damages in unequal athletic financial aid Larisa suffered can be calculated by using the following information, along with other information not currently public available: Larisa was a varsity athlete in in 2019-20, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $2,204.03; she was a varsity athlete in 2020-21, when SDSU deprived each female student-athlete of an average of $1,874.40; and, given SDSU's commitment to honor her financial aid after eliminating the women's rowing team, she was eligible for aid in 2021-22 and 2022-23, when SDSU deprived female students of equal financial in presently unknown amounts.

180. Larisa was also harmed because SDSU retaliated against her and the other Plaintiffs for filing this lawsuit, including because—as a result of SDSU's retaliation—additional student-athletes declined to join the case as plaintiffs, they and other student-athletes were deterred from assisting the Plaintiffs in prosecuting the case (e.g., by agreeing to participate as witnesses), and her ability to prove that SDSU was and is discriminating against her and its other female student-athletes was adversely affected.

Defendants

181. Defendant San Diego State University is a constituent institution of the California State University System.

182. Defendant San Diego State University is a recipient of federal funds and is required to comply with Title IX and all of its implementing regulations.

183. Defendant Board of Trustees of the California State University is a public entity that does business in San Diego, California, by operating the university campus of SDSU.

184. Defendant Board of Trustees of the California State University is a recipient of federal funds and is required to comply with Title IX and all implementing regulations.

185. Under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, 20 U.S.C. § 1681 et seq., and the regulations adopted pursuant to 34 C.F.R. Part 106, San Diego State University and the Board of Trustees of the California State University must provide equal opportunities to women and men in every program SDSU offers, including equal athletic financial aid and equal treatment and benefits to SDSU's female and male varsity student-athletes, and cannot retaliate against any female student-athlete for speaking out against sex discrimination at SDSU or attempting to enforce her rights under Title IX.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

TITLE IX BARS SDSU FROM DISCRIMINATING AGAINST ITS FEMALE STUDENT-ATHLETES ON THE BASIS OF THEIR SEX.

186. Title IX says, "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance." 20 U.S.C. § 1681(a).

1 187. Because SDSU receives federal financial assistance, its varsity athletic
2 program is subject to Title IX, and SDSU must comply with Title IX's requirements.
3 20 U.S.C. § 1687.

4 188. When schools segregate their varsity athletic programs on the basis of sex,
5 as SDSU does, their violations of Title IX in those programs constitute intentional sex
6 discrimination. See Neal v. Board of Trustees of the Cal. State Univs., 198 F.3d 763,
7 772 n.8 (9th Cir. 1999).

8 189. Applying Title IX to intercollegiate athletics, OCR has adopted
9 regulations requiring educational institutions receiving federal funds to "provide equal
10 athletic opportunity for members of both sexes." 34 C.F.R. § 106.41(c).

11 190. The regulations, codified at 34 C.F.R. Part 106 (the "Regulations") are 12 enforced by OCR.

13 191. In 1979, OCR issued a policy interpretation of Title IX and the 14 Regulations as applied to intercollegiate athletics at 44 Fed. Reg. 71,413 (Dec. 11, 15 1979) (the "OCR Policy Interpretation").

16 192. The OCR Policy Interpretation sets forth two areas of Title IX compliance
17 applicable to SDSU's varsity intercollegiate athletics programs at issue in this case:
18 equal athletic financial assistance and equal treatment and benefits.

19 193. In addition, Title IX prohibits SDSU from "retaliating against a person
20 who speaks out against sex discrimination, because such retaliation is intentional
21 'discrimination' 'on the basis of sex.'" Jackson v. Birmingham Bd. of Educ., 544 U.S.
22 167, 178 (2005); see also 34 C.F.R. § 106.71.

23 194. As the U. S. Supreme Court explained, it would be "difficult, if not 24 impossible" to achieve Title IX's goal of protecting citizens from discriminatory 25 practices "if persons who complain about sex discrimination did not have effective 26 protection against retaliation." Jackson, 544 U.S. at 180–81 (noting that, without 27 protection against retaliation, "individuals who witness discrimination would likely 28 not report it . . . and the underlying discrimination would go unremedied").
29

Title IX's Equal Athletic Financial Aid Requirements

195. Title IX's requirements for equal athletic financial aid have been in existence since 1979.

196. As OCR explained in 1998: "With regard to athletic financial assistance, the regulations promulgated under Title IX provide that, when a college or university awards athletic scholarships, these scholarship awards must be granted to 'members of each sex in proportion to the number of students of each sex participating in intercollegiate athletics.' 34 C.F.R. 106.37(c)." Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education ("DOE"), Dear Colleague Letter at 2 (July 23, 1998).

197. The regulation cited by OCR, 34 C.F.R. §106.37 (c), provides:

(1) To the extent that a recipient awards athletic scholarships or grants-in-aid, it must provide reasonable opportunities for such awards for members of each sex in proportion to the number of students of each sex participating in interscholastic or intercollegiate athletics.

(2) Separate athletic scholarships or grants-in-aid for members of each sex may be provided as part of separate athletic teams for members of each sex to the extent consistent with this paragraph and § 106.41.

198. The OCR Policy Interpretation states, among other things, its interpretation of the athletic financial aid provision quoted above:

The Policy - The Department will examine compliance with this provision of the regulation primarily by means of a financial comparison to determine whether proportionately equal amounts of financial assistance (scholarship aid) are available to men's and women's athletic programs. The Department will measure compliance with this standard by dividing the amounts of aid available for the members of

1 each sex by the numbers of male or female participants in
2 the athletic program and comparing the results. Institutions
3 may be found in compliance if this comparison results in 4 substantially equal amounts or if a resulting disparity can be
5 explained by adjustments to take into account legitimate,
6 nondiscriminatory factors...

7 Application of the Policy - This section does not require a
8 proportionate number of scholarships for men and women or 9 individual scholarships of equal dollar value. It does mean
10 that the total amount of scholarship aid made available to 11 men and women must be substantially proportionate to their 12 participation rates.

13 44 Fed. Reg. 71,415.

14 199. On July 23, 1998, OCR discussed and clarified how it interpreted and 15 would enforce Title IX's athletic financial aid requirements:

16 With regard to athletic financial assistance, the regulations
17 promulgated under Title IX provide that, when a college or 18 university awards athletic scholarships, these scholarships
19 awards must be granted to "members of each sex in 20 proportion to the number of students of each sex
21 participating in ...intercollegiate athletics." 34 C.F.R.
22 106.37(c)...

23 It is important to note that it is not enough for a college or 24 university merely to assert a nondiscriminatory justification.
25 Instead, it will be required to demonstrate that its asserted
26
27
28
29

1 rationale is in fact reasonable and does not reflect underlying
2 discrimination...

3 If any unexplained disparity in the scholarship budget for 4 athletes of either gender is 1% or less for the entire budget
5 for athletic scholarships, there will be a strong presumption
6 that such a disparity is reasonable and based on legitimate
7 and nondiscriminatory factors. Conversely, there will be a
8 strong presumption that an unexplained disparity of more
9 than 1% is in violation of the “substantially proportionate”
10 requirement.

11 OCR, U.S. DOE, Dear Colleague Letter at 2-4 (July 23, 1998).²

12 200. Because Title IX and its implementing Regulations are federal law, 13 NCAA and conference rules cannot justify violations of them.

14 201. The Title IX Regulations state: “The obligation to comply with this part is 15 not obviated or alleviated by any rule or regulation of any organization . . . or 16 association which would render any applicant or student ineligible to participate or 17 limit the eligibility or participation of any applicant or student, on the basis of sex, in 18 any education program or activity operated by a recipient and which receives Federal 19 financial assistance.” 34 C.F.R. 106.6(c).

20 202. As a result, if SDSU chose to sponsor women’s and men’s varsity athletic 21 teams with NCAA or conference scholarship limits that allowed SDSU to award its 22 male student-athletes far more athletic financial aid than its female student-athletes—
23 and then did so—SDSU would be violating Title IX.

25 ² The OCR’s Title IX Investigator’s Manual states that the unduplicated participation count
26 should be used in this analysis. See, e.g., Investigator’s Manual, 27 <https://eric.ed.gov/?id=ED400763>, at 21 (stating that “[p]articipants who participate on 28 more than one team are to be counted only once” in assessing financial-aid claims).

203. Any NCAA or conference limits would not justify SDSU's violation of the law.

Title IX's Equal Athletic Treatment and Benefit Requirements

204. Title IX's requirements for equal treatment and benefits are codified at 34 C.F.R. § 106.41(c). The Regulations identify nine non-exclusive areas in which recipients must provide equal treatment and benefits to female and male student-athletes:

- The provision of equipment and supplies;
- Scheduling of games and practice time;
- Travel and per diem allowance;
- Opportunity to receive coaching and academic tutoring;
- Assignment and compensation of coaches and tutors;
- Provision of locker rooms, practice and competitive facilities;
- Provision of medical and training services;
- Provision of housing and dining facilities and services; and
- Publicity.

205. Additionally, "[e]qual efforts to recruit male and female athletes are required under Title IX." Ollier v. Sweetwater Union High Sch. Dist., 858 F. Supp. 2d 1093, 1110–11 (S.D. Cal. 2012) (citing Policy Interpretation, 44 Fed. Reg. at 71,417).

206. "Although recruiting is not listed as a factor under 34 C.F.R. section 106.41(c), the Policy Interpretations do identify this area as significant." Barrett v. W. Chester Univ. of Pennsylvania of State Sys. of Higher Educ., No. CIV.A. 03-CV-4978, 2003 WL 22803477, at *6 (E.D. Pa. Nov. 12, 2003) (citing Cohen v. Brown Univ., 809 F. Supp. 978, 997 (D. R.I.1992) (identifying recruiting dollars as a "target area" under the Policy considerations and finding a disparity in Brown University's allocation of those funds)).

207. The items listed above are not exhaustive and do not include every area in which a school must provide equal treatment and benefits to its female

1 and male student-athletes, but they provide a good overview of the areas to be
2 examined.

3 208. In addition, a school's "failure to provide necessary funds for teams
4 for one sex" may also be indicative of sex discrimination. 34 C.F.R. § 106.41(c).

5 209. The OCR Policy Interpretation states, among other things, OCR's
6 interpretation of the equal treatment and benefits provisions quoted above:

7 The Policy—The Department will assess compliance with 8 both the recruitment and the general athletic program
9 requirements of the regulation by comparing the availability,
10 quality and kinds of benefits, opportunities, and treatment
11 afforded members of both sexes. Institutions will be in 12 compliance if the compared program components are 13 equivalent, that is, equal or equal in effect. Under this 14 standard, identical benefits, opportunities, or treatment are not 15 required, provided the overall effect of any differences is negligible.

16 44 Fed. Reg. 71,415.

17 Title IX's Prohibition Against Retaliation

18 210. Title IX's prohibition on retaliation was recognized and emphasized by 19 the U.S. Supreme Court in Jackson, 544 U.S. at 178: "[T]he text of Title IX prohibits 20 a funding recipient from retaliating against a person who speaks out against sex 21 discrimination, because such retaliation is intentional 'discrimination' 'on the basis of 22 sex.'" See also 34 C.F.R. § 106.71 ("No recipient or other person may intimidate, 23 threaten, coerce, or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering 24 with any right or privilege secured by Title IX[.]").

25 211. As the Supreme Court explained, such retaliation "is discrimination 'on 26 the basis of sex' because it is an intentional response to the nature of the complaint: an 27 allegation of sex discrimination." Jackson, 544 U.S. at 174.
28

1 212. The Court said it would be “difficult, if not impossible” to achieve Title
2 IX’s goal of protecting citizens from discriminatory practices “if persons who 3 complain about sex discrimination did not have effective protection against 4 retaliation.” Id. at 180–81 (noting that, without protection against retaliation, 5 “individuals who witness discrimination would likely not report it . . . and the 6 underlying discrimination would go unremedied”).

7 213. “Reporting incidents of discrimination is integral to Title IX enforcement,
8 and would be discouraged if retaliation against those who report went unpunished.”
9 Id. at 180.

10 214. The Ninth Circuit has likewise explained that “Title IX empowers a 11 woman student to complain, without fear of retaliation, that the educational 12 establishment treats women unequally.” Emeldi v. Univ. of Oregon, 698 F.3d 715, 725
13 (9th Cir. 2012) (noting that “[i]t is a protected activity to protest or otherwise oppose 14 unlawful discrimination” and that “speak[ing] out against sex discrimination . . . is 15 protected activity.” (internal quotation marks and citations omitted)).

16 215. Put simply, “[w]omen students should not be deterred from advancing 17 pleas that they be treated as favorably as male students.” Id. at 726.

18 216. To the contrary, “[i]ndividuals should be commended when they raise
19 concerns about compliance with the Federal civil rights laws, not punished for doing
20 so.” OCR, U.S. DOE, Dear Colleague Letter at 1 (April 24, 2013).

21 217. For all these reasons, OCR has explained that “once a student . . .
22 complains formally or informally to a school about a potential civil rights violation 23 . . . , the recipient [school] is prohibited from retaliating (including intimidating, 24 threatening, coercing, or in any way discriminating against the individual) because of 25 the individual’s complaint.” Id.

26 218. “[A]ny plaintiff with an interest arguably sought to be protected by’ a 27 statute with an anti-retaliation provision has standing to sue under that statute.” Ollier
28 v. Sweetwater Union High Sch. Dist., 768 F.3d 843, 866 (9th Cir. 2014).

SDSU HAS BEEN AND IS DISCRIMINATING AGAINST ITS FEMALE STUDENT-ATHLETES ON THE BASIS OF THEIR SEX.

219. SDSU is a member of the NCAA, and it participates in Division I athletics, the highest level of intercollegiate competition.

220. For the past several decades, SDSU has sponsored women's and men's varsity Division I intercollegiate athletic teams, segregated based on sex.

221. In regard to the members of its women's teams, SDSU has violated and is violating Title IX's equal athletic financial aid requirements, equal treatment and benefits requirements, and prohibition against retaliation.

SDSU's Violations of Title IX's Equal Athletic Financial Aid Requirements

222. SDSU offers athletic financial aid to members of its women's and men's varsity athletic teams.

223. SDSU has not provided and does not provide athletic financial aid to its female varsity student-athletes in proportion to their athletic participation rates and, accordingly, intentionally discriminates against its female varsity student-athletes on the basis of their sex in violation of Title IX.

224. At all times relevant to this case, SDSU has been and is responsible for ensuring its compliance with Title IX's requirements to provide proportional athletic financial aid to its female student-athletes; which is independent from SDSU's obligations to provide proportional participation opportunities under Title IX.

225. SDSU's compliance with Title IX's equal athletic participation requirements does not absolve the school of its obligations to comply with Title IX's equal athletic financial aid requirements.

226. Such an allowance could make it possible for a school to provide proportional participation opportunities to its female and male student-athletes and award no financial aid to its female student-athletes.

227. For more than a decade, female varsity student-athletes at SDSU have been deprived of athletic financial aid in proportion to their participation in SDSU athletics, and the difference in the proportion has always been greater than 1%.

228. The information summarized in the chart and paragraphs below (all of which use unduplicated participation counts) was submitted and verified as accurate by SDSU to the federal government pursuant to the Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act (EADA).³

Year	Female Student Athletes	Male Student Athletes	% of females	Female Aid Awarded	Male Aid Awarded	% of aid awarded to females	Amount of aid SDSU deprived female student athletes
2010	269	222	54.79%	$2,776,419.00	$2,708,301.00	50.62%	$228,447.97
2011	302	235	56.24%	$3,169,134.00	$3,073,774.00	50.76%	$341,775.15
2012	312	231	57.46%	$3,586,299.00	$3,181,040.00	52.99%	$302,116.78
2013	322	239	57.40%	$3,813,759.00	$3,482,941.00	52.27%	$374,364.71
2014	310	236	56.78%	$3,943,771.00	$3,685,045.00	51.70%	$387,608.05
2015	304	230	56.93%	$4,176,824.00	$3,914,582.00	51.62%	$429,519.49
2016	315	226	58.23%	$4,426,056.00	$4,155,385.00	51.58%	$570,531.64
2017	303	216	58.38%	$4,527,853.00	$4,325,925.00	51.14%	$641,115.66
2018	316	221	58.85%	$4,580,663.00	$4,604,510.00	49.87%	$824,392.25

229. In 2018-19, the $824,392.25 shortfall amounted to an average of $2,608.84 denied to each female student-athlete at SDSU.

230. In 2019-20, SDSU's 315 female student-athletes equaled 58.12% of the total student-athletes. But female student-athletes were provided with only 50.57% of ³ SDSU has exclusive access to its Title IX athletic participation and athletic financial aid data and has not yet disclosed that information to Plaintiffs or the public. For that reason, Plaintiffs must rely on public EADA data that SDSU has certified as accurate in this Second Amended Complaint. See Balow v. Michigan State Univ., 24 F.4th 1051, 1060 (6th Cir. 2022), reh'g denied, No. 21-1183, 2022 WL 1072866 (6th Cir. Mar. 31, 2022) (recognizing that, in the early stages of litigation, it is appropriate to rely upon the university's EADA data); Ohlensehlen v. Univ. of Iowa, 509 F. Supp. 3d 1085, 1101 (S.D. Iowa 2020) ("Defendants' argument that EADA reports cannot be relied on carries no force, considering that other courts have specifically relied on such records at the early stages of Title IX litigation." (collecting cases)).

1 the $9,198,841 in athletic financial aid the school awarded that year, amounting to a
2 loss of $694,267.88 in athletic financial aid for women.⁴

3 231. In 2019-20, the $694,267.88 shortfall amounted to an average of 4 $2,204.03 denied to each female student-athlete at SDSU.

5 232. In 2020-21, SDSU's 305 female student-athletes equaled 57.22% of the 6 total student-athletes. But female student-athletes were provided with only 50.64% of 7 the $8,679,501.00 in athletic financial aid the school awarded that year, amounting to 8 a loss of $571,692.82 in athletic financial aid for women.

9 233. In 2020-21, the $571,692.82 shortfall amounted to an average of
10 $1,874.40 denied to each female student-athlete at SDSU.

11 234. Thus, in just the last two academic years for which data is publicly
12 available,⁵ not including 2021-22 or the current academic year, SDSU's female 13 student-athletes have received over $1.2 million less in athletic financial aid—and its 14 male varsity student-athletes have received over $1.2 million more—than they would 15 have received if SDSU had granted such aid in proportion to the number of students
16 of each sex participating in intercollegiate athletics.

17 235. A similar or greater unequal and disproportionate allocation of athletic 18 financial aid to varsity female student-athletes at SDSU took place in the 2021-22
19 academic year, is taking place in the current academic year, and will continue in the 20 future if it is not stopped.

21 ⁴ Lost athletic financial aid is calculated by subtracting the aid SDSU actually awarded 22 to female student-athletes in a given year from the athletic financial aid female student-
23 athletes would have been awarded if SDSU had complied with Title IX by awarding such 24 aid proportionally (i.e., if the percentage of athletic financial aid awarded to female student-
25 athletes matched the percentage of female student-athletes participating in SDSU's varsity 26 athletics program). For example, in 2019-20 the lost athletic financial aid would be
27 $((0.5812 \times $9,198,841) - $4,651,922) = $694,267.88$ based on the information disclosed
28 by SDSU to the DOE in its annual EADA report.

⁵ The U.S. Department of Education has not published EADA data for the 2021-22 academic year, and the 2022-23 academic year is ongoing. As a result, the most recent publicly available information concerns the 2020-21 academic year.

1 236. Plaintiffs are entitled to damages going back a minimum of two years from
2 August 19, 2021, for SDSU's Title IX's athletic financial aid violations.⁶

3 237. For the 2019-20 academic year, the fall semester started August 22 and 4 classes began August 26.

5 238. SDSU is permitted to award athletic financial aid at any point in the 6 academic year and, until the academic year is over and the school makes the amount 7 of aid awarded to each gender public, only the school can determine whether the 8 allocation of athletic financial aid meets the proportionality requirements of Title IX.

9 239. Any athletic financial aid awarded in the middle of an academic year can
10 be retroactive back to start of that academic year. SDSU can correct its discriminatory 11 allocation of athletic financial aid at any point during an academic year.

12 240. As a result, the earliest Plaintiffs could have known about the unequal 13 allocation of athletic financial aid to male student-athletes for the 2019-20 academic 14 year was January 1, 2021.⁷

15 241. Defendants have not asserted or attempted to demonstrate any justification
16 for SDSU's failure to provide female student-athletes with equal athletic financial aid
17 that does not reflect underlying discrimination—and Plaintiffs are not aware of any.

18 242. For example, if more female student-athletes were in-state residents, more
19 male student-athletes were non-residents, and SDSU spent at least as much money

20 ⁶ The parties entered into a tolling agreement on August 19, 2021, preserving all Title
21 IX athletic financial aid claims for at least two years prior to that date. As of August 19, 22 2019 (i.e., two years prior to the tolling agreement), SDSU had not filed its EADA data for 23 the 2018-19 academic year. So, as of that date, Plaintiffs had no way to know that they had 24 been deprived of equal financial aid in the 2018-19 academic year.

25 ⁷ Typically, institutions are required to file their EADA reports with the U.S.
26 Department of Education by October 15 for the prior years' athletic expenditures and 27 participation. Covid-19 extended this deadline beyond October 15 for submissions for the 28 2019-20 academic year. See 85 Fed. Reg. 79,861 (Dec. 11, 2020) (“[T]he October 15 deadline established in § 668.41(g)(1) for IHEs to distribute their annual Equity in Athletics Disclosure Act (EADA) disclosures (required under § 668.47(c)) to required recipients is extended to December 31, 2020.”).

1 trying to recruit female student-athlete non-residents as male student-athlete non-
2 residents (so the in-state/out-of-state difference was not attributable to sex 3 discrimination in recruiting), that might arguably help explain the smaller and 4 disproportionate grants of athletic financial aid to SDSU's female student-athletes.

5 243. In fact, however, more male athletes at SDSU are in-state residents, more
6 female student-athletes are non-residents, and SDSU spends far more money trying to 7 recruit male student-athletes (approximately $1,702 per athlete in 2019-20) than it 8 spends trying to recruit female student-athletes (approximately $593 per athlete in 9 2019-20).

10 244. After the original Complaint in this lawsuit was filed, charging SDSU with 11 depriving its female varsity student-athletes of equal athletic financial aid, SDSU
12 issued a statement saying, "SDSU awards approximately 95% of all possible
13 scholarships permitted under NCAA rules for both its men's and women's teams 14 NCAA rules prohibit all schools, including SDSU, from giving unlimited athletic 15 scholarships. To exceed these limits would make student-athletes ineligible to 16 compete." https://www.insidehighered.com/quicktakes/2022/02/09/female-athletes-
file-title-ix-suit-against-san-diego-state

17 245. If SDSU's statement is accurate, SDSU chose to sponsor women's and 18 men's varsity athletic teams with NCAA scholarship limits that allow SDSU to award
19 its male student-athletes far more athletic financial aid than its female student-athletes,
20 SDSU is depriving women of equal athletic financial aid because it chose to award
21 male student-athletes close to 95% of all scholarships the NCAA limits permit (when 22 it was not required to do so), and, at a minimum, SDSU admittedly deprived its female
23 student-athletes of close to 5% of the possible scholarships the NCAA limits permitted
24 it to grant (when nothing prevented it from providing that additional 5% to female 25 student-athletes).

26 246. In any event, SDSU's compliance with NCAA limits does not authorize 27 or permit its violation of Title IX's equal athletic financial aid requirements.
28
29

1 247. When SDSU announced the elimination of the women's rowing team, it
2 pledged to honor the scholarships for all members of the team through their graduation
3 date if those members of the former team remained at SDSU.

4 248. As a result, Plaintiffs who were on the women's rowing team and who
5 remain at SDSU continue to be harmed by SDSU's discriminatory choice to offer
6 proportionately more athletic financial aid to male student-athletes.

7 249. That ongoing discrimination against them, which locks their smaller 8 awards into place on the basis of a sex-based barrier, will persist until those former 9 members of the women's rowing team graduate or otherwise leave SDSU.

10 SDSU's Violations of Title IX's Equal Athletic Treatment and Benefits
11 Requirements

12 250. SDSU fails to provide athletic treatment and benefits to its female varsity 13 student-athletes equal to those it provides to its male varsity student-athletes and 14 accordingly, intentionally discriminates against its female varsity student-athletes in 15 violation of Title IX.

16 Provision of equipment and supplies

17 251. SDSU does not give its female and male student-athletes an equal
18 provision of equipment and supplies.

19 252. SDSU provides more equipment and supplies to the men on its men's 20 teams than it provides to the women on its women's teams.

21 253. For example, many of the men on the men's teams receive four or more
22 pairs of athletic shoes for the season while the women on the women's teams receive 23 only two to three pairs of athletic shoes for the season and the women on some 24 women's teams are not given even one pair of athletic shoes for their use.

25 254. The men on the men's teams are also provided with equipment and 26 supplies of superior quality to the equipment and supplies that SDSU provides to the 27 women on its women's teams.
28
29

1 255. Likewise, women on SDSU's women's teams, such as track and field, are
2 required to reuse equipment and supplies over a number of years while men on SDSU's
3 men's team, such as football, are given new equipment and supplies every year.

4 Scheduling of games and practice time

5 256. SDSU does not provide its female and male student-athletes with equal
6 scheduling of games and practice times.

7 257. Men on SDSU's men's teams are given priority for scheduling practice
8 times and weight room training.

9 258. SDSU requires women on its women's teams, such as the women's track 10 and field team, to schedule their practices around the men on the men's teams, such as 11 soccer, even when the men's team is not in its NCAA competitive season and the 12 women's team is in its competitive season.

13 259. SDSU gives the men's football team members priority scheduling over all 14 the women on the women's teams for practices, weightlifting, and time in the athletic 15 training center, even when football is not in its competitive season.

16 Travel and per diem allowance

17 260. SDSU does not provide its female and male student-athletes with equal
18 travel benefits and per diem allowances.

19 261. SDSU provides the men on its football team with a private plane for travel 20 to some away games and does not provide that same benefit to the women on any of 21 the women's teams. The university also provides funding for the men on other men's 22 teams to fly to away competitions while the women on women's teams are required to 23 take a bus to competitions, even competitions that are more than ten hours away.

24 262. SDSU provides the men on its men's teams with higher per diems for away 25 travel—$200 to $300 for a competition weekend—and the women on its women's 26 teams much smaller per diems for away travel—$75 to $100 for a competition
27 weekend.
28
29

1 263. SDSU pays for the men on the men's football team to stay at a hotel the
2 night before all home competitions and does not provide that same benefit to the 3 women on any of the women's teams.

4 264. SDSU also provides the men on its men's teams with catered meals during
5 travel, while requiring the women on its women's teams to provide their own sack
6 lunches while traveling.

7 Opportunity to receive coaching and academic tutoring

8 265. SDSU does not provide its female and male student-athletes with equal
9 opportunities to receive coaching and academic tutoring.

10 266. SDSU gives the men on its men's teams, particularly the men's football
11 and basketball teams, priority access to scheduling tutoring.

12 Assignment and compensation of coaches and tutors

13 267. SDSU does not provide its female and male student-athletes with equal 14 compensation of coaches.

15 268. In the past two decades, SDSU has compensated the head coaches of its 16 women's teams significantly less than the coaches of its men's teams.

17 269. The information summarized in the charts below was submitted and 18 verified as accurate by SDSU to the federal government under EADA.
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
~ ~

	Men's Teams Average Annual Salary per Head Coach	Men's Teams Number of Head Coaches	Women's Teams Average Annual Salary per Head Coach	Women's Teams Number of Head Coaches
2003	$229,455.00	6	$90,385.00	10
2004	$220,798.00	6	$89,716.00	10
2005	$269,509.00	6	$102,469.00	10
2006	$301,611.00	6	$113,973.00	10
2007	$345,744.00	6	$123,965.00	10
2008	$297,947.00	6	$97,653.00	10
2009	$318,864.00	6	$122,652.00	10
2010	$384,166.00	6	$143,071.00	10
2011	$422,181.00	6	$142,932.00	11
2012	$447,068.00	6	$160,315.00	11
2013	$448,049.00	6	$155,113.00	11
2014	$474,294.00	6	$162,668.00	11
2015	$487,877.00	6	$170,778.00	11
2016	$513,658.00	6	$176,952.00	11
2017	$458,683.00	6	$178,840.00	11
2018	$458,570.00	6	$188,885.00	11
2019	$534,335.00	6	$202,715.00	11

270. While some fluctuation in compensation is to be expected between sports, on average SDSU pays the head coaches of its women's teams less than half the amount that it pays the head coaches of its men's teams, and it has done so for almost twenty years.⁸

271. The same is true of the assistant coaches of men's and women's teams at SDSU.

⁸ SDSU only reports average salaries for all of its coaches combined through EADA.

	Men's Teams Average Annual Salary per Assistant Coach	Men's Teams Number of Assistant Coaches	Women's Teams Average Annual Salary per Assistant Coach	Women's Teams Number of Assistant Coaches
2003	$91,889.00	16	$39,928.00	17
2004	$97,892.00	17	$47,090.00	18
2005	$126,896.00	17	$49,452.00	18
2006	$146,504.00	17	$57,285.00	18
2007	$139,062.00	18	$58,652.00	18
2008	$113,777.00	18	$42,092.00	19
2009	$132,846.00	18	$60,209.00	18
2010	$166,425.00	17	$70,599.00	16
2011	$189,731.00	16	$75,346.00	17
2012	$204,229.00	16	$85,974.00	17
2013	$199,606.00	17	$84,410.00	18
2014	$211,241.00	17	$85,567.00	18
2015	$191,821.00	18	$89,463.00	18
2016	$216,300.00	18	$93,241.00	18
2017	$205,252.00	18	$87,817.00	20
2018	$209,792.00	19	$95,496.00	20
2019	$229,342.00	19	$101,016.00	20

272. This unequal compensation hinders SDSU's ability to attract and retain high-quality coaching staffs for its women's teams.

273. This unequal compensation also ensures that female student-athletes will not receive coaching as valuable as the male student-athletes receive.

Provision of locker rooms, practice, and competitive facilities

274. SDSU does not give its female and male student-athletes an equal provision of locker rooms and facilities.

275. SDSU provides the men on its football team with their own private locker room, which was remodeled three years ago, within the football training center, and it provides the men on its baseball team with a state-of-the-art private locker room next to their baseball field.

276. The locker rooms provided to the women on SDSU's women's water polo and swimming and diving teams are outdated and are not located at the facility where they practice and compete. These women are required to

1 travel—while soaking wet—to their locker rooms rather than having them next
2 to their practice or competition facilities.

3 277. The women’s locker rooms at SDSU are furnished with furniture so
4 old that the student-athletes do not even want to sit on it.

5 278. SDSU also requires the women on some women’s teams to share a
6 single locker room, while the men on men’s teams are not required to share
7 locker rooms.

8 Provision of medical and training services

9 279. SDSU does not give its female and male student-athletes an equal
10 provision of medical and training services.

11 280. Women on some women’s teams at SDSU often have to share
12 athletic trainers with the men on men’s teams. When they do, these athletic 13 trainers are present at every practice and competition for the men’s teams, but 14 not at every practice and competition for the women’s teams, even if that means 15 they are present at a men’s team’s practice instead of a women’s team’s 16 competition.

17 281. The women on women’s teams at SDSU are frequently required to 18 wait for hours for an athletic trainer, while the men on men’s teams are provided 19 with athletic trainers at all times.

20 282. The women on many women’s teams at SDSU are also required to 21 share one athletic trainer among multiple teams, while the men’s football team
22 is provided with three full-time athletic trainers and up to twelve student trainers
23 every year.

24 Publicity

25 283. SDSU does not provide its female and male student-athletes with 26 equal publicity.

27 284. SDSU provides more publicity for the men on its football and men’s 28 basketball teams than it provides for the women on any women’s team.

1 285. SDSU posts more regularly on its website and SDSU's official
2 social media accounts about the men on its football and basketball teams than 3 any female sport.

4 286. SDSU provides billboards around campus advertising the men's 5 football team and does not do so for any women's teams.

6 287. SDSU posts on the athletic department's social media accounts
7 when the men on the men's teams are competing but does not post when the 8 women on the women's teams are competing.

9 288. SDSU provides the men on SDSU's football team with professional 10 photographers at their practices and games, but the women on SDSU's women's 11 teams are rarely provided with a photographer at competitions or even at 12 conference championships when they are competing.

13 289. SDSU closes off the athletic center in the front to interview the men
14 on its football team before every football game to be posted on SDSU's official
15 social media accounts. This treatment is not offered for any women's sports.

16 290. SDSU sends out emails to all SDSU students regarding when 17 sporting events and games will be, but it always provides the men on the men's 18 teams with greater focus and attention, even if there are women's games or 19 events taking place the same day or week.

20 Recruiting

21 291. SDSU does not provide its female and male student-athletes with 22 equal funding and opportunities for recruiting.

23 292. For almost twenty years, the women on SDSU's women's varsity
24 teams have been given much smaller recruiting budgets than the men on SDSU's
25 varsity teams, resulting in SDSU spending far more on male student-athletes for 26 recruiting.

27 293. The information summarized in the chart was submitted and verified as 28 accurate by SDSU to the federal government under EADA.

	Unduplicated Men's Participation	Unduplicated Women's Participation	Men's Team Recruiting Expenses	Women's Team Recruiting Expenses	% of women student athletes	% of recruiting expenses for women's teams	Recruiting dollars per female student	Recruiting dollars per male student
2003	233	246	$242,783.00	$138,699.00	51.36%	36.36%	$563.82	$1,041.99
2004	227	269	$301,065.00	$141,574.00	54.23%	31.98%	$526.30	$1,326.28
2005	219	273	$334,877.00	$193,768.00	55.49%	36.65%	$709.77	$1,529.12
2006	234	273	$336,880.00	$200,511.00	53.85%	37.31%	$734.47	$1,439.66
2007	240	296	$348,842.00	$239,490.00	55.22%	40.71%	$809.09	$1,453.51
2008	239	293	$267,110.00	$236,812.00	55.08%	46.99%	$808.23	$1,117.62
2009	219	283	$289,117.00	$241,918.00	56.37%	45.56%	$854.83	$1,320.17
2010	222	269	$221,214.00	$184,276.00	54.79%	45.45%	$685.04	$996.46
2011	235	302	$256,567.00	$202,353.00	56.24%	44.09%	$670.04	$1,091.77
2012	231	312	$323,204.00	$213,019.00	57.46%	39.73%	$682.75	$1,399.15
2013	239	322	$313,160.00	$212,557.00	57.40%	40.43%	$660.11	$1,310.29
2014	236	310	$396,690.00	$199,810.00	56.78%	33.50%	$644.55	$1,680.89
2015	230	304	$340,168.00	$239,647.00	56.93%	41.33%	$788.31	$1,478.99
2016	226	315	$368,555.00	$227,700.00	58.23%	38.19%	$722.86	$1,630.77
2017	216	303	$426,171.00	$258,095.00	58.38%	37.72%	$851.80	$1,973.01
2018	221	316	$443,370.00	$232,419.00	58.85%	34.39%	$735.50	$2,006.20
2019	227	315	$386,285.00	$186,558.00	58.12%	32.57%	$592.25	$1,701.70

294. In 2019-20, the 315 female student-athletes equaled 58.12% of SDSU's total student-athletes. But female student-athletes were provided with only 32.57% of the $572,843 in recruiting dollars SDSU provided its coaches that year to recruit student-athletes to its varsity sport teams. On average, SDSU spent only $592.25 to recruit each female student-athlete versus the $1,701.70 it spent to recruit each male student-athlete.

295. In 2020-21, the 305 female student-athletes equaled 57.22% of the total student-athletes. But female student-athletes were provided with only 34.39% of the $675,789 in recruiting dollars SDSU provided its coaches that year to recruit student-athletes to its varsity sport teams. On average, SDSU spent only $735.50 to recruit each female student-athlete versus the $2,006.20 it spent to recruit each male student-athlete.

296. Data from more recent years is not yet available.

1 SDSU's Violation of Title IX's Prohibition Against Retaliation

2 297. On February 7, 2022, Plaintiffs filed the initial class action Complaint in 3 this case, charging SDSU with intentionally discriminating against its female student-4 athletes on the basis of their sex by depriving them of equal athletic financial aid of 5 over half a million dollars each year.

6 298. Just over one week later, on February 16, 2022, a previously unscheduled
7 Zoom meeting with the women's varsity track and field team was called and recorded
8 to discuss, among other things, the team's upcoming track and field competition.

9 299. Five of the named Plaintiffs are or were, at the relevant time, members of 10 the women's varsity track and field team and were present for this meeting, as were 11 almost all of the more than forty other members of the team.

12 300. At the outset of the meeting, before discussing the upcoming track and 13 field competition, SDSU told all of the team members that it was disappointed and 14 unhappy with the five women on the team who had brought the Title IX lawsuit against 15 the school.

16 301. In particular, SDSU, through its employee, women's track and field team
17 head coach Shelia Burrell, stated—to virtually the entire varsity track and field team—
18 that five members of the team were involved in a lawsuit against the school and that 19 she was disappointed in those five members of the team because they were involved
20 in the lawsuit.

21 302. In fact, Burrell stated she was especially unhappy with members of the 22 team who had filed a lawsuit.

23 303. Burrell said those involved in the lawsuit were putting their individual 24 interests above the team's.

25 304. Burrell also described the Title IX lawsuit as a distraction to the women
26 participating in the lawsuit and to the team as a whole.
27
28
29

1 305. Burrell told them that being a member of the varsity women's track and
2 teams is not a right, suggesting to some of the women that those who participated in 3 or assisted with the lawsuit could be removed from the team.

4 306. In other words, SDSU implicitly threatened those who participated or 5 assisted in the lawsuit with removal from a team they had worked their whole lives to 6 join.

7 307. In addition, Burrell stated that she had received backlash from the school's 8 athletic department because of the lawsuit.

9 308. These comments suggest that SDSU's athletics department was also 10 retaliating against Burrell, who was, in turn, delivering a clear message of disapproval
11 to those involved—or who might consider becoming involved—in this lawsuit.

12 309. These comments singled out the five Plaintiffs and criticized them 13 explicitly for being involved in this lawsuit, strongly suggesting that other members of 14 the women's track and field team should not join or participate in the lawsuit.

15 310. It also subjected the five Plaintiffs present on the Zoom call to 16 embarrassment, humiliation, and anxiety solely because they had filed a Title IX
17 lawsuit against SDSU.

18 311. At the time SDSU made these comments through Coach Burrell, it knew 19 that the five Plaintiffs on the women's track and field team were already suing it for 20 sex discrimination in violation of Title IX on behalf of all of the other female varsity
21 student-athletes at SDSU.

22 312. SDSU also knew that Plaintiffs were preparing to file a second class action
23 claim against the school, seeking equal treatment and benefits for SDSU's current 24 female student-athletes, unless SDSU would agree to provide equal treatment and 25 benefits to its current female varsity student-athletes without the need for a lawsuit to 26 be filed.

27 313. SDSU was also aware that such a claim was likely to be raised only by 28 current female varsity student-athletes.

1 314. SDSU likewise knew that, since the five Plaintiffs on the women's track
2 and field team were already suing the school for depriving them of equal financial aid,
3 there was a strong possibility that they would participate in the equal-treatment case.

4 315. SDSU further knew that the women's track and field team was the most
5 obvious source for additional current female varsity student-athletes to pursue claims
6 against SDSU for depriving its current female student-athletes of equal treatment and 7 benefits.

8 316. And SDSU knew that, if the Plaintiffs on the women's track and field team
9 were directly and openly retaliated against for pursuing Title IX sex discrimination
10 claims against the school, that would have a chilling effect on the rest of the women's 11 track and field team members and other female student-athletes at SDSU, who would 12 be deterred from pursuing their rights under Title IX and from working with Plaintiffs 13 to challenge, expose, and remedy SDSU's sex discrimination.

14 317. As a result of SDSU's comments at the Zoom meeting, the five members
15 of the women's track and field team who are Plaintiffs were adversely affected, 16 disturbed, upset, and harmed in their ability to pursue Title IX claims on behalf of 17 themselves and the other female student-athletes at SDSU.

18 318. Because of SDSU's comments, other women's track and field team
19 members were immediately wary and are wary of pursuing Title IX claims against 20 SDSU, including by joining as named Plaintiffs or otherwise participating or assisting 21 in this case.

22 319. In particular, shortly after the Zoom meeting, several members of the 23 women's track and field team told Plaintiffs that they had been considering joining the 24 lawsuit but were glad they had not done so and would not do so now as a result of 25 SDSU's comments through Coach Burrell to the team.

26 320. Additionally, because of these comments, the other Plaintiffs and the past
27 and current female varsity student-athletes on behalf of whom the Plaintiffs filed this 28 case were damaged because the prosecution of Plaintiffs' claims and the ability of 29

1 other female varsity student-athletes to pursue their own Title IX claims have been
2 adversely affected, the discriminatory impact of SDSU's retaliation will increase as
3 knowledge of it spreads, and all of the past and current SDSU female varsity student-4 athletes whose claims are at issue in this case are in the zone of interest protected by 5 Title IX. See A. B. v. Hawaii State Dep't of Educ., No. 20-15570, 2022 WL 996575,
6 at *11 (9th Cir. Apr. 4, 2022).

7 321. Moreover, SDSU's refusal to take action to ameliorate or minimize the 8 harm done by its retaliatory comments has made things worse.

9 322. On February 28, 2022, Plaintiffs reached out to SDSU regarding the 10 retaliatory comments and asked SDSU to preserve and provide them a video of the 11 Zoom meeting, which had been recorded.

12 323. Plaintiffs requested that SDSU hold another meeting of the women's track 13 and field team and make an agreed-upon statement to mitigate the damage done by its 14 comments in the February 16 meeting.

15 324. Plaintiffs also asked SDSU what actions it would take to ensure that no
16 SDSU employee would retaliate against Plaintiffs and class members in the future or 17 otherwise attempt to deter women from exercising their rights under Title IX.

18 325. Finally, Plaintiffs asked SDSU to produce a copy of the recording of the 19 Zoom meeting to ensure that there were no misunderstandings about what was said
20 during the meeting.

21 326. Having received no response, Plaintiffs followed up on these requests on 22 March 2, 2022.

23 327. On March 7, 2022, SDSU responded that it "disagreed" with Plaintiffs'
24 "characterization of what transpired" at the meeting, claimed there was "no evidence
25 of retaliatory actions or intent," and said that "the University will address the situation
26 internally."

27 328. In response, on March 8, 2022, because SDSU "disagreed" with Plaintiffs'
28 "characterization of what transpired" and claimed "there was no evidence of retaliatory
29

1 actions or intent,” Plaintiffs again requested that SDSU simply provide the recorded
2 video of the February 16 meeting with the team.

3 329. Plaintiffs also requested, again, that SDSU explain how it planned to 4 address the situation.

5 330. SDSU declined to provide the video of the meeting and refused to provide 6 any details about how it would address the comments made during that meeting.

7 331. Despite repeated requests, SDSU never explained why it would not share
8 the video or explain how it intended to address the comments. Nor did SDSU ever
9 offer any assurance that it would not retaliate against Plaintiffs or anyone else who 10 participated in, supported, or provided information to help advance this case.

11 332. In addition, any members of the team—including the Plaintiffs—who 12 approached Coach Burrell about her comments were flatly rebuffed. Coach Burrell
13 refused to discuss her comments or reassure Plaintiffs and others in any way.

14 333. SDSU’s conduct sent Plaintiffs, all female student-athletes at SDSU, and 15 anyone who might help them, a very clear message: be afraid.

16 334. As a result, Plaintiffs were left no choice but to seek to vindicate their 17 rights in this lawsuit.

18 CLASS ALLEGATIONS

19 335. Plaintiffs bring this action on behalf of themselves and a class and subclass 20 of all those similarly situated, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2) and 21 (b)(3).

22 336. Specifically, in regard to their claims for equal athletic financial aid:

23 a. Plaintiffs seek to represent a class for damages under Rule
24 23(b)(3) of all current and former female students who participated
25 in intercollegiate varsity athletics at SDSU from the 2019-20
26 academic year to the present and did not receive all of the athletic 27 financial aid they could have received, and 28
29

1 b. Plaintiffs currently participating in varsity athletics at SDSU
2 seek to represent a subclass for injunctive relief under Rule 23(b)(2)
3 of all current and future female students who participate in 4 intercollegiate varsity athletics at SDSU and do not receive all of the 5 athletic financial aid they could receive.

6 337. In regard to their claim for equal benefits and treatment, Plaintiffs
7 currently participating in varsity athletics at SDSU seek to represent a class for 8 injunctive relief under Rule 23(b)(2) of all current and future female students who 9 participate in intercollegiate athletics at SDSU.

10 338. In regard to their claim for retaliation:

11 a. Plaintiffs seek to represent a class for damages under Rule
12 23(b)(3) of all former female students who participated in 13 intercollegiate varsity athletics at SDSU from the 2019-20 academic 14 year to the present and did not receive all of the athletic financial aid 15 they could have received, and

16 b. Plaintiffs currently participating in varsity athletics at SDSU
17 seek to represent a class for damages under Rule 23(b)(3) of all
18 female students who are currently participating in intercollegiate
19 varsity athletics at SDSU.

20 c. Plaintiffs currently participating in varsity athletics at SDSU
21 seek to represent a class for injunctive relief under Rule 23(b)(2) of 22 all female current and future students who participate in 23 intercollegiate varsity athletics at SDSU.

24 339. Plaintiffs reserve the right to revise or amend the above class and subclass
25 definitions based on facts learned in discovery.

26 340. Numerosity. The proposed classes and subclass meet the “numerosity”
27 requirement of Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1) because over 300 female student-athletes
28
29

1 participated in varsity athletics at SDSU annually in and since the 2019-20 academic
2 year. Joinder of them all is impracticable.

3 341. The proposed classes and subclass also meet that requirement because 4 joinder of all class members and all persons harmed by Defendants' past and still-
5 ongoing sex discrimination in SDSU's varsity intercollegiate athletic program is 6 impracticable.

7 342. The proposed classes and subclass are known to exist, but the number of 8 female student-athletes in some of them will increase during this litigation because of 9 the nature of college enrollment and athletic participation. The number of female
10 student-athletes harmed by Defendants' discrimination will grow as each outgoing
11 class of students graduates and each incoming class of students starts attending SDSU.

12 343. The exact number of female varsity student-athletes who have been, are 13 being, and will be harmed by Defendants' conduct, while numerous, is unknown, 14 making joinder impracticable for that reason, too.

15 344. Commonality And Predominance. Plaintiffs satisfy the "commonality"
16 requirement of Rule 23(a)(2) and the predominance requirement of Rule 23(b)(3) 17 because there are questions of law and fact in common to the proposed classes and 18 subclass that predominate over any questions affecting only individual members,
19 making a class action superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently
20 adjudicating the controversy. These questions include whether Defendants have 21 violated and are violating Title IX (a) by failing to provide female varsity student-22 athletes at SDSU with proportional athletic financial aid, and, if so, what remedies the 23 female varsity student-athletes are entitled to as a result; (b) by depriving female
24 varsity student-athletes at SDSU of equal benefits and treatment and, if so, what 25 remedies they are entitled to as a result; and (c) by retaliating against former and 26 present female varsity student- athletes at SDSU and, if so, what remedies they are 27 entitled to as a result.
28
29

1 345. Because Title IX requires comparison of the sex-segregated men's and 2 women's athletic programs, the Title IX issues in this action are inherently class-based.

3 346. Typicality. The Plaintiffs proposed as representatives of the classes and
4 subclass satisfy the "typicality" requirement of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure
5 23(a)(3) because their claims are typical of those of the proposed classes and subclass.
6 They all have been denied and/or are being denied proportional athletic financial aid
7 at SDSU because of Defendants' ongoing sex discrimination. The Plaintiffs who are 8 current student-athletes are all being denied equal treatment and benefits. The 9 Plaintiffs have all been retaliated against in violation of Title IX, as have all of the 10 proposed retaliation damages class members, and the Plaintiffs who are current 11 student-athletes all seek injunctive protection from retaliation going forward against 12 current and future female student-athletes at SDSU. Plaintiffs all want to end SDSU's 13 continuing violation of Title IX and recover appropriate remedies for themselves and 14 the proposed class and subclass members.

15 347. In addition, Plaintiffs, like all members of the proposed classes and 16 subclass, have been, are being, or will be harmed by the ongoing sex discrimination in 17 SDSU's varsity athletics program.

18 348. Adequacy. The Plaintiffs proposed as representatives of the classes and 19 subclass are members of the proposed classes and subclass and will fairly and 20 adequately represent the interests of the classes and subclass as required by Rule
21 23(a)(4). They each intend to prosecute this action vigorously to secure fair and 22 adequate monetary and equitable relief, as appropriate, for the classes and subclass.
23 There is no conflict between the Plaintiffs proposed as class and subclass
24 representatives and the class or subclass members.

25 349. Plaintiffs have retained counsel who have significant experience and 26 success prosecuting Title IX class actions against universities and will adequately
27 represent the class. Their counsel has devoted substantial time to identifying and 28 investigating the potential claims in this action, have developed detailed knowledge of 29

1 the facts and the applicable law, have no conflicts with Plaintiffs or the putative classes
2 or subclass, and have sufficient resources to commit to representing the putative
3 classes and subclass.

4 350. Rule 23(b)(3) Certification: Superiority. Plaintiffs satisfy the requirement
5 for certification of their claims for damages under Rule 23(b)(3) because class
6 certification would be superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient
7 adjudication of this controversy. Here, it would be impractical and economically
8 infeasible for class members to seek redress individually. Proof and resolution of their 9 claims require class-wide evidence and findings. No other litigation concerning this 10 controversy has already begun by other class members and litigation of these claims 11 in this forum is desirable.

12 351. Rule 23(b)(2) Certification: Defendants' Common Conduct. Plaintiffs
13 satisfy the requirement for certification of their claims for equitable relief under Rule
14 23(b)(2) in that the Defendants are acting or refusing to act on grounds that apply
15 generally to the class—by denying female student-athletes at SDSU proportional 16 athletic financial aid, by denying them equal treatment and benefits, and by retaliating 17 against them when they raise concerns about the school's sex discrimination—so that 18 final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief is appropriate respecting the 19 class as a whole.

20 352. Plaintiffs are seeking equitable relief under Rule 23(b)(2) because they 21 have no adequate remedy at law to prevent Defendants from violating Title IX in the 22 future by depriving SDSU's female varsity student-athletes of equal athletic financial 23 aid, by denying them equal treatment and benefits, and by retaliating against them
24 when they raise concerns about the school's sex discrimination.
25
26
27
28
29

COUNT I

Title IX

Denial of Equal Allocation of Athletic Financial Aid

353. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate here by reference each and every allegation in the paragraphs above.

354. Plaintiffs bring this claim as a class action as set forth under the Class Allegations and on behalf of the class defined above.

355. SDSU provides athletic financial aid to some of its male and female varsity student-athletes.

356. Under Title IX and 34 C.F.R. § 106.37, as interpreted by OCR, SDSU must provide athletic financial aid to its female and male student-athletes in proportion to the number of students of each sex participating in intercollegiate athletics.

357. SDSU has not provided and does not provide athletic financial aid to its female and male student-athletes in proportion to the number of students of each sex participating in intercollegiate athletics.

358. SDSU has provided and continues to provide its female varsity student-athletes much less—and its male varsity student-athletes much more—athletic financial aid than they would have received if SDSU had granted such aid in proportion to the number of students of each sex participating in intercollegiate athletics.

359. SDSU's failure to provide its female student-athletes with athletic financial aid in proportion to the number of female student-athletes participating in intercollegiate athletics constitutes sex discrimination in violation of Title IX and 34 C.F.R. § 106.37.

360. Individuals harmed by violations of Title IX may seek and recover monetary damages, injunctive relief to prevent continuing discrimination, declaratory relief, and attorneys' fees and costs.

361. Plaintiffs and the class members have been and are harmed by Defendants' failure to provide SDSU's female student-athletes with athletic financial aid in

1 proportion to the number of female student-athletes participating in intercollegiate
2 athletics. Such harm includes, but is not limited to, lost opportunities to compete on an 3 equal basis for aid, being forced to endure a sex-based barrier to aid, lost athletic 4 financial aid, being subjected to sex discrimination, as well as the degrading and
5 stigmatizing effects of that treatment. Accordingly, they are entitled to the relief
6 requested herein.

7 COUNT II

8 Title IX

9 Denial of Equal Athletic Treatment and Benefits

10 362. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate here by reference each and every 11 allegation in the paragraphs above.

12 363. Plaintiffs bring this claim as a class action as set forth under the Class
13 Allegations and on behalf of the class defined above.

14 364. SDSU provides its varsity student-athletes with certain benefits,
15 including but not limited to, equipment, supplies, uniforms, locker rooms, 16 scheduling for competitions, transportation and accommodations for travel, per 17 diem for travel, coaching, tutoring and academic support services, practice and 18 competition facilities, medical and training services, weight training and 19 conditioning services, housing and dining services, sports information and 20 publicity services, recruiting, video support, and other services.

21 365. Under Title IX and 34 C.F.R. §106.41(c), SDSU must allocate these 22 benefits equally between male athletes and female athletes. On a program-wide 23 basis, it must provide female athletes with benefits that are comparable to those 24 that it provides to male athletes.

25 366. Defendants fail to provide female student-athletes with an equal 26 allocation of these benefits. This failure constitutes sex discrimination in 27 violation of Title IX.
28
29

1 367. SDSU has not sufficiently allocated benefits (or the resources and
2 budgets necessary to provide the benefits) to its female athletes.

3 368. Defendants fail to provide equal athletic benefits in some or all of 4 the categories set forth in the Regulations and the Policy Interpretation, including 5 but not limited to:

- 6 1. The provision of equipment, uniforms, and supplies;
- 7 2. Scheduling of games and practice time;
- 8 3. Travel, transportation, and per diem allowance;
- 9 4. Opportunity to receive coaching and academic tutoring;
- 10 5. Assignment and compensation of coaches and tutors;
- 11 6. Provision of locker rooms, practice and competitive
12 facilities;
- 13 7. Provision of medical and training services;
- 14 8. Provision of housing and dining facilities and services;
- 15 9. Publicity & sports information services;
- 16 10. Administrative support;
- 17 11. Recruiting resources and support; and
- 18 12. Resources necessary to provide any of the foregoing
19 benefits or to provide the female athletes with a genuine
20 Division I athletic experience.

21 369. Plaintiffs are harmed by SDSU's failure to provide its female
22 student-athletes with an equal allocation of benefits and resources. Such harm
23 includes lost educational opportunities, lost competitive advantage, less quality 24 in participation opportunities, being subjected to sex discrimination, and the 25 degrading and stigmatizing effects of that treatment. Accordingly, they are 26 entitled to the relief requested herein.
27
28
29

COUNT IIITitle IX*Retaliation

370. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate here by reference each and every allegation in the paragraphs above.

371. Plaintiffs bring this claim as a class action as set forth under the Class Allegations and on behalf of the class defined above.

372. Title IX and its implementing regulations prohibit retaliation for complaints of sex discrimination. 20 U.S.C. §1681; 34 C.F.R. § 106.71; Jackson, 544 U.S. at 174, 178, 183. Such retaliation includes “intimidat[ing], threaten[ing], coerc[ing], or discriminat[ing] against any individual for the purpose of interfering with any right or privilege secured by title IX.” 34 C.F.R. § 106.71.

373. Plaintiffs are females who were previously or are currently varsity student-athletes at SDSU who have been and are continuing to be discriminated against by SDSU due to its intentional deprivation of equal athletic financial aid and equal treatment and benefits on the basis of their sex in violation of Title IX.

374. On February 7, 2022, Plaintiffs engaged in protected activity by filing this class action lawsuit against SDSU alleging sex discrimination in SDSU’s intentional deprivation of equal athletic financial aid on the basis of their sex in violation of Title IX. See Ollier, 768 F.3d at 868.

375. Just over one week later, on February 16, 2022, SDSU unlawfully retaliated against Plaintiffs by making negative statements about Plaintiffs and this lawsuit and expressing unhappiness and disappointment with their participation in the lawsuit.

376. SDSU subjected Plaintiffs to this retaliation because they engaged in protected activity by filing this class action lawsuit against SDSU alleging sex discrimination.

1 377. In addition, SDSU refused to agree to Plaintiffs' requests that it take action
2 to mitigate the harm caused by its retaliation, causing and allowing that harm to 3 increase.

4 378. As a result of SDSU's retaliation, Plaintiffs and others similarly situated
5 have suffered and continue to suffer harm, including, but not limited to, anger, upset,
6 frustration, interference with their ability to pursue and vindicate their rights under 7 Title IX, and being subjected to sex discrimination. Accordingly, they are entitled to 8 the relief requested herein.

9 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

10 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray that this Court:

11 A. Certify this case as a class action for the following:

12 In regard to their claim for equal athletic financial aid:

- 13 • A class for damages under Rule 23(b)(3) of all current and 14 former female students who participated in intercollegiate varsity
15 athletics at SDSU from the 2019-20 academic year to the present
16 and did not receive all of the athletic financial aid they could have 17 received, and
- 18 • A subclass for injunctive relief under Rule 23(b)(2) of all
19 current and future female students who participate in intercollegiate 20 varsity athletics at SDSU and do not receive all of the athletic 21 financial aid they could receive.

22 In regard to their claim for equal treatment and benefits:

- 23 • A class for injunctive relief under Rule 23(b)(2) of all current 24 and future female students who participate in intercollegiate varsity
25 athletics at SDSU who did not receive equal treatment and benefits.

26 In regard to their claim for retaliation:

- 27 • A class for damages under Rule 23(b)(3) of all former female 28 students who participated in intercollegiate varsity athletics at

SDSU from the 2019-20 academic year to the present and did not receive all of the athletic financial aid they could have received, and

- A subclass for damages under Rule 23(b)(3) of all female students who are currently participating in intercollegiate athletics at SDSU.

- A subclass for injunctive relief under Rule 23(b)(2) of all current and future female students who participate in intercollegiate varsity athletics at SDSU.

B. Appoint the Plaintiffs referred to in the Class Allegations above as representatives of the respective classes and subclass, and appoint Plaintiffs' counsel as class counsel;

C. Enter an order declaring that SDSU has discriminated and is discriminating against its past and current female varsity student-athletes on the basis of their sex in the distribution of athletic financial aid in violation of Title IX and the Regulations promulgated thereunder;

D. Enter an order declaring that SDSU is discriminating against its current female varsity student-athletes on the basis of their sex in the provision of treatment and benefits in violation of Title IX and the Regulations promulgated thereunder;

E. Enter an order declaring that SDSU has illegally retaliated against its past and current female varsity student-athletes in violation of Title IX and the Regulations promulgated thereunder;

F. Issue a permanent injunction barring SDSU from discriminating against its female student-athletes on the basis of their sex by (a) depriving them of equal athletic financial aid, (b) denying them equal treatment and benefits in SDSU's varsity intercollegiate athletics program, and (c) retaliating against them for speaking about and challenging SDSU's sex discrimination in violation of Title IX.

1 G. Award compensatory damages and other monetary relief as permitted by
2 law to Plaintiffs and all members of the athletic financial aid damages class for SDSU's
3 violation of their right to equal athletic financial aid;

4 H. Award nominal, compensatory, as appropriate, and other monetary relief
5 as permitted by law to Plaintiffs and all members of the retaliation damages classes for 6 SDSU's retaliation in violation of Title IX.

7 I. Maintain jurisdiction over this action to monitor SDSU's compliance with 8 this Court's orders;

9 J. Award Plaintiffs their reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses; and 10 K. Order such other and further relief as the Court deems appropriate.

11 Dated: April 20, 2022

Respectfully submitted,

12 /s/ Joshua I. Hammack

13 Joshua I. Hammack (pro hac vice)

14 Cary Joshi (pro hac vice)

BAILEY & GLASSER LLP

1055 Thomas Jefferson Street NW, Suite 540

Washington, DC 20007

16 Tel: (202) 463-2101

17 E-mail: jhammack@baileyglasser.com

E-mail: cjoshi@baileyglasser.com

18 Arthur H. Bryant SBN 208365

19 BAILEY & GLASSER, LLP

20 1999 Harrison Street, Suite 660

21 Oakland, CA 94612

22 Tel.: (510) 272-8000

E-mail: abryant@baileyglasser.com

23 Lori Bullock (pro hac vice)

24 BAILEY & GLASSER LLP

25 309 E. 5th Street, Suite 202B

26 Des Moines, IA 50309

27 Tel.: 515.416.9051

E-mail: lbullock@baileyglasser.com

1 David S. Casey, Jr. SBN 69768
2 Gayle M. Blatt SBN 122048
3 CASEY GERRY SCHENK
4 FRANCAVILLA BLATT & PENFIELD, LLP
5 110 Laurel Street
6 San Diego, CA 92101
7 Telephone: (619) 238-1811
8 E-mail: dcasey@cglaw.com
9 E-mail: gmb@cglaw.com

10 Amber Eck SBN 177882
11 Jenna Rangel SBN 272735
12 HAEGGQUIST & ECK, LLP
13 225 Broadway, Ste 2050
14 San Diego, CA 92101
15 Tel: (619) 342-8000
16 E-mail: ambere@haelaw.com
17 E-mail: jennar@haelaw.com

18 ATTORNEYS FOR PLAINTIFFS