1 upon her sex (female) in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. §
2 2000e, et seq. ("Title VII"), when Lowell was subjected to sexual harassment and retaliation.

3 2. On July 5, 2005, the EEOC issued a letter of determination with a finding of 4 reasonable cause to believe that IFA and Labor Ready violated Title VII.

5 3. The Commission filed its complaint against IFA on September 30, 2005 in the 6 United States District Court for the Western District of Washington and its complaint against
7 Labor Ready on October 13, 2005.

8 4. Labor Ready filed an answer to the Commission's complaint on November 18,
9 2005. IFA filed an answer to the Commission complaint on December 23, 2005. Both answers
10 denied the allegations of discrimination in the EEOC's complaint. The cases were consolidated
11 on December 5, 2005.

12 5. Lowell filed motions to intervene and was granted intervention.

13 6. The parties want to conclude fully and finally all claims arising out of the charge
14 of discrimination filed with EEOC by Janice Lowell, the EEOC's Letter of Determination, and 15 the EEOC's complaint and Lowell's complaint in intervention. The EEOC, Labor Ready and 16 IFA enter into this settlement agreement to further the objectives of equal employment as set
17 forth in Title VII.

24 VII. Labor Ready and IFA deny violating any law.
