Dear Dr. Hayden,

Mark Stroh, our Executive Director, is having me send you the enclosed documents per your letter dated January 8 requesting publications related to community living and possible barriers to integration. The documents include: a major class action lawsuit we filed this past October against Rainier School, Washington State's largest residential habilitation center (RHC) for people with mental retardation and developmental disabilities; a case summary of the lawsuit; two fact sheets relating to the lawsuit; and a bibliography of WPAS library materials related to community living.

I hope these materials are useful to you somehow. Good luck with your research and please call us if you have any questions: (206) 324-1521.

Cordially,

James Jordan
Administrative Assistant

cc: Mark Stroh
