06/22/2016	100	ORDER: On June 7, 2016, this case was transferred to the undersigned Chief District Judge via Administrative Order No. 188. The undersigned now VACATES all settings before Judge Gilbert and RE-SETS jury trial (before the undersigned, in the East St. Louis, IL courthouse) for 9:00 a.m. on Monday, March 26, 2018. The final pretrial conference will be held by Magistrate Judge Frazier and set by separate notice. If the parties desire an earlier or different trial setting, they are free to consent to trial before Magistrate Judge Frazier, who enjoys a more flexible trial docket and generally can accommodate requests for agreed trial dates. (This is mentioned only as an option. Adverse consequences will not result from any party electing to withhold consent.) For the convenience of the parties, the Clerk's Office will furnish a consent form upon request or the form may be found at http://www.ilsd.uscourts.gov/Forms/Consentotmag.pdf . Signed by Chief Judge Michael J. Reagan on 06/22/16. (dkd)THIS TEXT ENTRY IS AN ORDER OF THE COURT. NO FURTHER DOCUMENTATION WILL BE MAILED. (Entered: 06/22/2016)
08/15/2016	101	ORDER: Shortly after filing their putative class action complaint in this Court, Plaintiffs, all prisoners incarcerated at Vienna Correctional Center who maintain that the conditions at Vienna are inhumane, filed a motion for class certification, asking the Court to certify this case for class treatment. As a part of the class certification motion, Plaintiffs said that they filed the class certification motion early to stop any problem with mootness that might occur if they were transferred or released from Vienna during the pendency of this case. The motion expressly relied on the Seventh Circuit's decision in Damasco v. Clearwire Corp. , 662 F.3d 891 (7th Cir. 2011), which held that plaintiffs in putative class cases could use early class certification motions to avoid mootness problems. The rub is that Damasco was overruled by Chapman v. First Index, Inc. , 796 F.3d 783 (7th Cir. 2015), and the ongoing need for plaintiffs to file early class certification motions to avoid mootness has been placed into considerable doubt by the Seventh Circuit in Chapman and by the Supreme Court in Campbell-Ewald Co. v. Gomez , 136 S. Ct. 663 (2016). Given this change in the legal landscape, the Court DIRECTS Plaintiffs to file a brief supporting the need to keep the class certification motion pending on the docket by Tuesday, August 30, 2016. If Plaintiffs are of the view that they no longer need a pending class certification motion to avoid the problems they advanced to justify the early motion, they are DIRECTED to alternatively file a motion to withdraw the class certification motion without prejudice by Tuesday, August 30, 2016. Plaintiffs will, of course, be free to file a new motion for class certification once the issue is ready for resolution. Defendants are free to respond to Plaintiffs' brief or motion to withdraw by Tuesday, September 13, 2016. Signed by Chief Judge Michael J. Reagan on 8/15/2016. 09/28/2016	107	Joint MOTION to Stay - Joint Motion to Stay Discovery Deadlines in Order to Conduct Certain Limited Discovery by Michael Boyd, Paul Lee, Kendrick Pearson, J.B. Washup. (Lally, Kathleen) (Entered: 09/28/2016)
09/29/2016	108	ORDER: The parties have jointly moved to stay all pending deadlines from Judge Gilbert's May 2016 scheduling order, citing the need to conduct an inspection of Vienna Correctional Center and a limited representative deposition of an official from Vienna, both to attempt to speed a potential settlement. This case was filed in 2012 and was effectively stayed for a lengthy period of time while the parties tried to settle the case, only to be reset for trial by Judge Gilbert in mid-2016 when settlement deadlocked. After the case was transferred to the undersigned, the parties received an additional two month extension to the ultimate trial date, which is now set for March 2018. To the extent the parties' current motion to stay seeks to pause the case in a manner that would impact the March 2018 trial date or the substantive motion deadline in the Court's local rules (that all motions to dismiss, motions for judgment on the pleadings, and for summary judgment must be filed no later than 100 days before the first day of the trial month), the motion to stay (Doc. 107) is DENIED, as the parties have already been given many extensions to the trial date. The remainder of the motion to stay is referred to Magistrate Judge Daly, who is free to adjust the other deadlines in this case as she sees fit. If the parties require additional time to file substantive motions or wish another extension to the trial date, the parties remain free to consent this case to Judge Daly, who has a less congested trial docket, enjoys a more flexible schedule, and typically can accommodate agreed-upon alterations to the trial setting. This is mentioned only as one option as the Court appreciates the schedule facing counsel herein; no adverse consequences result from declining to consent to trial before Judge Daly. Signed by Chief Judge Michael J. Reagan on 9/29/2016. (wtw) THIS TEXT ENTRY IS AN ORDER OF THE COURT. NO FURTHER DOCUMENTATION WILL BE MAILED. (Entered: 09/29/2016)
