United States Court of Appeals,
Fifth Circuit.

David R. RUIZ, et al., Plaintiffs,
Keljer King, Plaintiff-Appellant,

v.

W.J. ESTELLE, Texas Board of Corrections, Defendant-Appellee.

No. 96-20163. | Summary Calendar. | April 2, 1997.

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas (CA-H-78-987).

Before HIGGINBOTHAM, WIENER, and BENAVIDES, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.*

*1 Inmate Keljer King appeals from the denial without prejudice of his motion for contempt. King's appeal is totally without merit. Indeed, his brief is a total affirmation that his claim is really an individual claim for damages and not one for equitable relief for a systemic violation of the final judgment in the Ruiz v. Estelle case. King's brief presents no argument or authority in support of his complaint that the district court abused its discretion in denying his contempt motion. Appellant's appeal is without arguable merit and is DISMISSED as frivolous.
