Defendant represents both that the information contained in its pending motion came directly from ICE's counsel and there are no further details to add via a declaration, and that ICE is on track to produce the remaining domain-name documents prior to the current deadline. In addition, defendant represents that the erroneous Vaughn index is a draft document that was not finalized, but nonetheless a finalized and corrected version will be produced pursuant to defendant's motion for summary judgment. Finally, defendant has agreed to produce a complete set of documents as soon as the corrected Vaughn index is finished; until that time, the complete set of documents to be re-released cannot be determined. Accordingly, none of the conditions requested by plaintiff in regard to defendant's proposed extension, which they do not oppose, appear warranted.
