Thanks for letting me know! I let him know I was not comfortable with handing him the complaints and that he can request them via the FIA. I have been extremely nice and told him that we could do mediation with the OCR if it gets to that point. I also let him know the reasons for the report are to correct the mistakes made and to get proper training for any similar instances that may come up in the future. I'll let you know if I have anymore questions!

Hi (b)(6); (b)(7)(C)

That's up to you. You do not have to provide him a copy of the complaint, and OCR will not provide him a copy unless he submits a request via the Freedom of Information Act. However, even if he submits a request via the Freedom of Information Act, we likely would not release it until any investigation we pursued was complete.

Best,
TiShaunda

The Dean wants me to email him my complaints that I sent in. Should I do that or not? I told him we could try to do the mediation part if the DOE does intervene and see how things go from there. He wanted me to tell him the latest complaint but I didn't want to tell him since it involved him. He didn't seem mad about it and he was very calm, which is a plus. I'll fax you the signature tomorrow.

I will not be in the office tomorrow. You can call me on Wednesday. Please let me know what time you're thinking. Also, I do not know the College's policies for providing paperwork/investigative files, so I cannot tell you whether the College is supposed to provide that information to you, or how. That would be part of our investigation. Also, when we last spoke, I told you that if the College provided documents to us, you would have to submit a Freedom of Information Act request to obtain them, assuming that there are not any exceptions to providing them. Also, all personally identifiable information would be redacted from the documents. I can explain this all again when we talk on Wednesday.

If you'd like, you can call me and I can go over the mediation process with you before that.

(b)(6); (b)(7)(C) I am also afraid they may have shredded some of my paper work that might be important to the case. I'm not for sure what to do.

Hello,

Just a small update and some questions.

I have been talking to a reporter for several months now from the (b)(6); (b)(7)(C). He is the one that directed me to the DOE. I told him that I think I will let them publish a story of what has happened to me here at the school such as how I was treated and how I wasn't afraid to let the school know that they did wrong and should take responsibility for what they did, but I'm not for sure if this is something that will interfere with the DOE's investigation or if it's something I can't do until after the case is closed. I do not want to mess anything up in this process. Also, if it is possible for me to make a deal with the school to re-do the sexual assault case but with outside people doing it and request this individual not be able to live on campus/be on campus outside of class hours or is that not something that a deal is allowed to be made on? I'd prefer someone not interested in the school or either party in the case, so it is fair and not biased. And, I have talked to the dean (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) some more and told him I will not be willing to talk about what happened that night in front of a bunch of people. He didn't really understand why I would not want to because he said if it pertained to the case then I would have to in order for both parties to understand what was going on. I told him they could always read my reports that I filed and that I can always write down what happened that night again, but still would not speak about it in front of a bunch of strangers. Just the thought of having to talk about it again is giving me terrible nightmares and panic attacks. I have not fully recovered from the assault, and not for sure if I will, but talking about it to the people that made it even worse just seems to unsettle me even more. He also asked me why I did not come to the school first with my complaints and when I told him I did he asked who I talked to. I told him several people that would include (b)(6); (b)(7)(C). (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) I then proceeded to tell him that everyone but (b)(6); (b)(7)(C) basically told me to get over it and nothing else could be done. He did not comment on it anymore after that and ended our conversation.
