PROTECTIVE ORDER

This protective order is entered for good cause shown in Plaintiff and Defendant's Joint Motion for a Protective Order.

Plaintiff has requested in discovery Defendant's most recent balance sheet including, but not limited to, total assets, total liabilities, and total owner's equity. Defendant objected to producing this information without a protective order. This financial information is confidential commercial information which is entitled to protection in accordance with Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(c).

All documents and information concerning Defendant's net worth, including, but not limited to, Defendant's most recent balance sheet [hereafter "the information concerning net worth"], shall be treated confidentially during this lawsuit, and shall not be revealed by Plaintiff. The information concerning net worth may only be reviewed by Plaintiff's and Defendant's attorneys and their staff. The information concerning net worth may, however, be used for presentation as proof during the trial of this lawsuit unless there is an objection to such use which is sustained by the Court, or an order by the Court prohibiting such use. All copies of the information concerning net worth must be returned to Defendant at the conclusion of all proceedings in this case.

SO ORDERED this 18th day of April, 2007.
